Cadet Prayer

Dear Lord and Heavenly Father,
As we search for knowledge and wisdom,
Grant that we may not forget
That Thou art the Giver
Of all good and perfect gifts.

Teach us to play the game with honor,
In our work and in our play.

May our words and deeds be such
That those who were before us
Will not be ashamed,
And those who follow after
Will find in us
An example of truth and courage—
The spirit of our school.

Give to us a noble spirit
That we, with our teachers,
May go forward to achieve
The highest goals in life.

Bless our school,
And all who teach,
And all who learn.
And Thine be the honor,
And glory forever,

Amen.

David H. Edington '99

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

1970 "Cadet" Dedicated To Major Edward Roy Price

For six years, Major Edward Roy Price has been an important member of the faculty at University Military School. In this age of rapid technological advancement, his courses in Physics, Mechanical Drawing and Slide Rule are essential stepping stones in the fields of science and engineering.

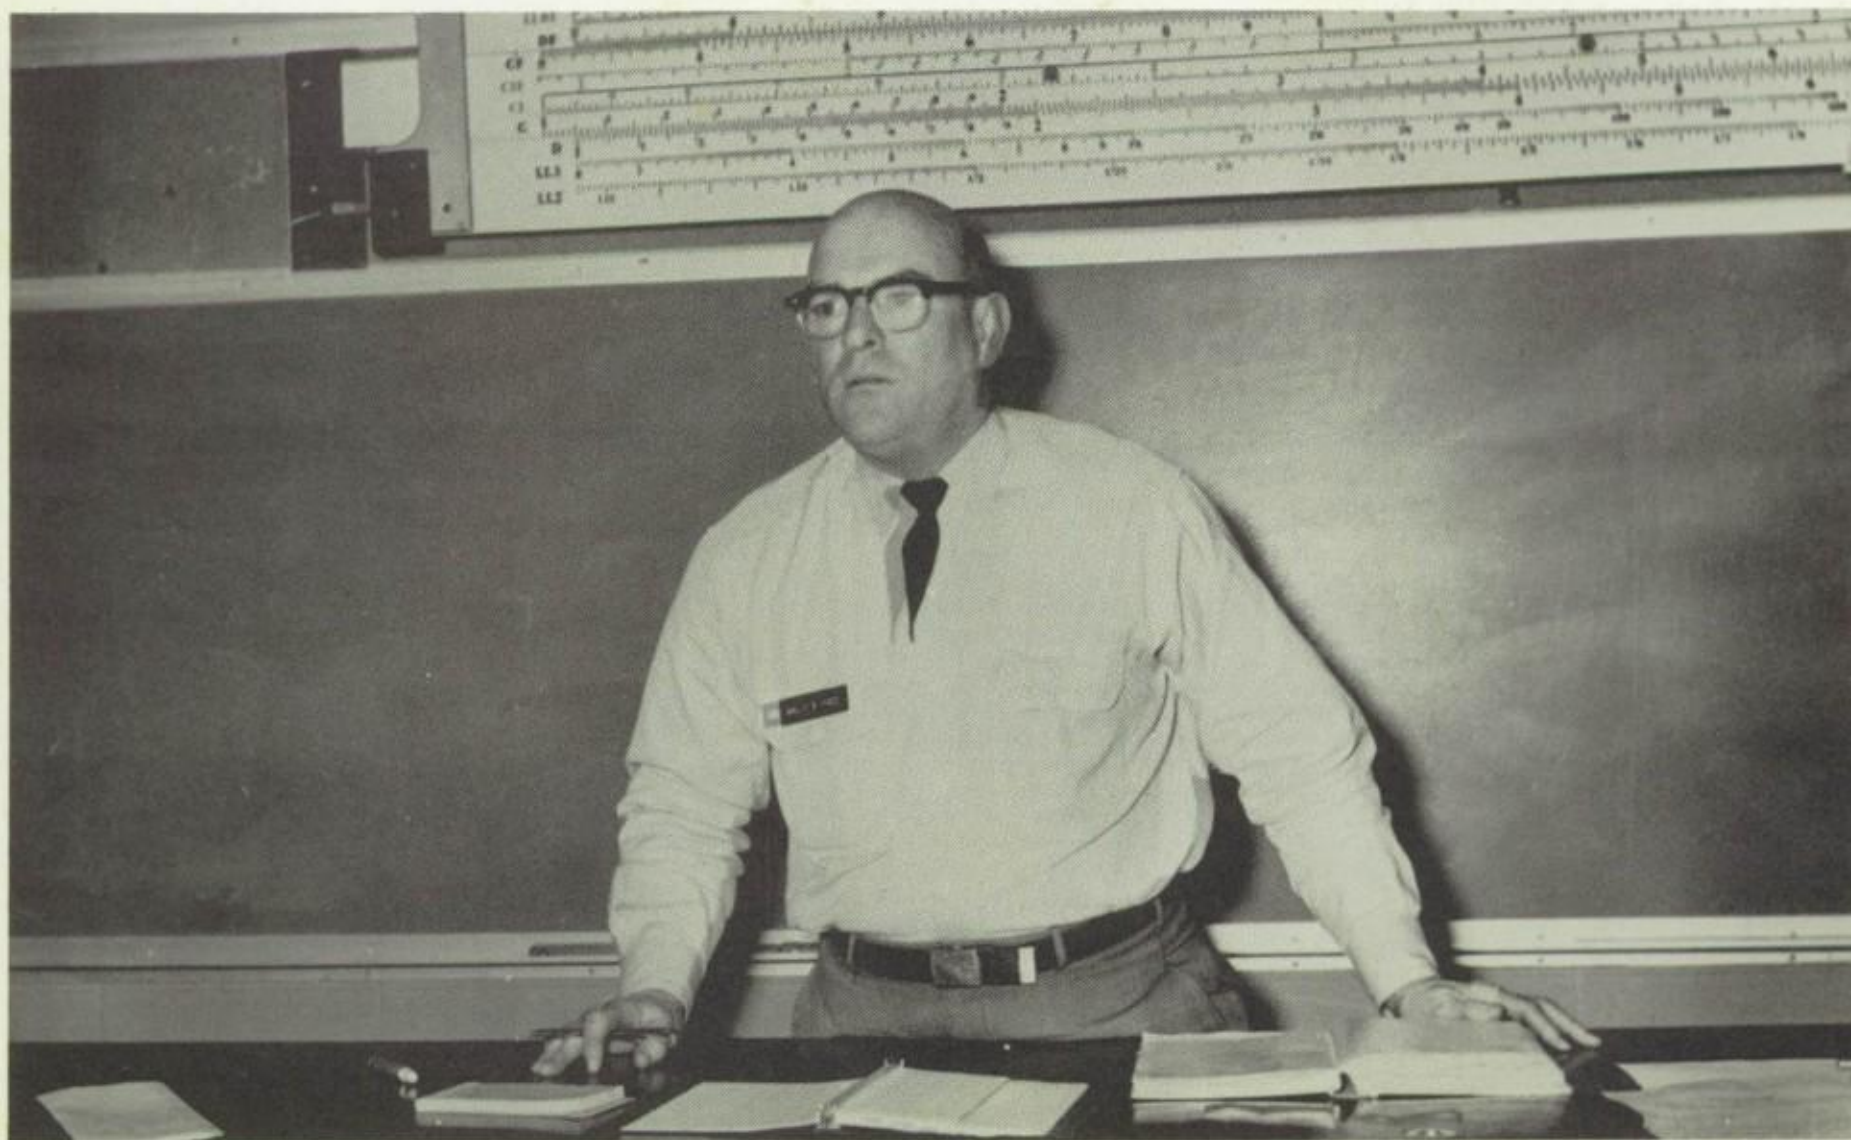

For his enthusiasm, boundless energy, and personal interest in all of his students, we proudly dedicate the 1970 "Cadet" to Major Edward Roy Price.

... in Physics

... in Mechanical Drawing

... in Slide Rule

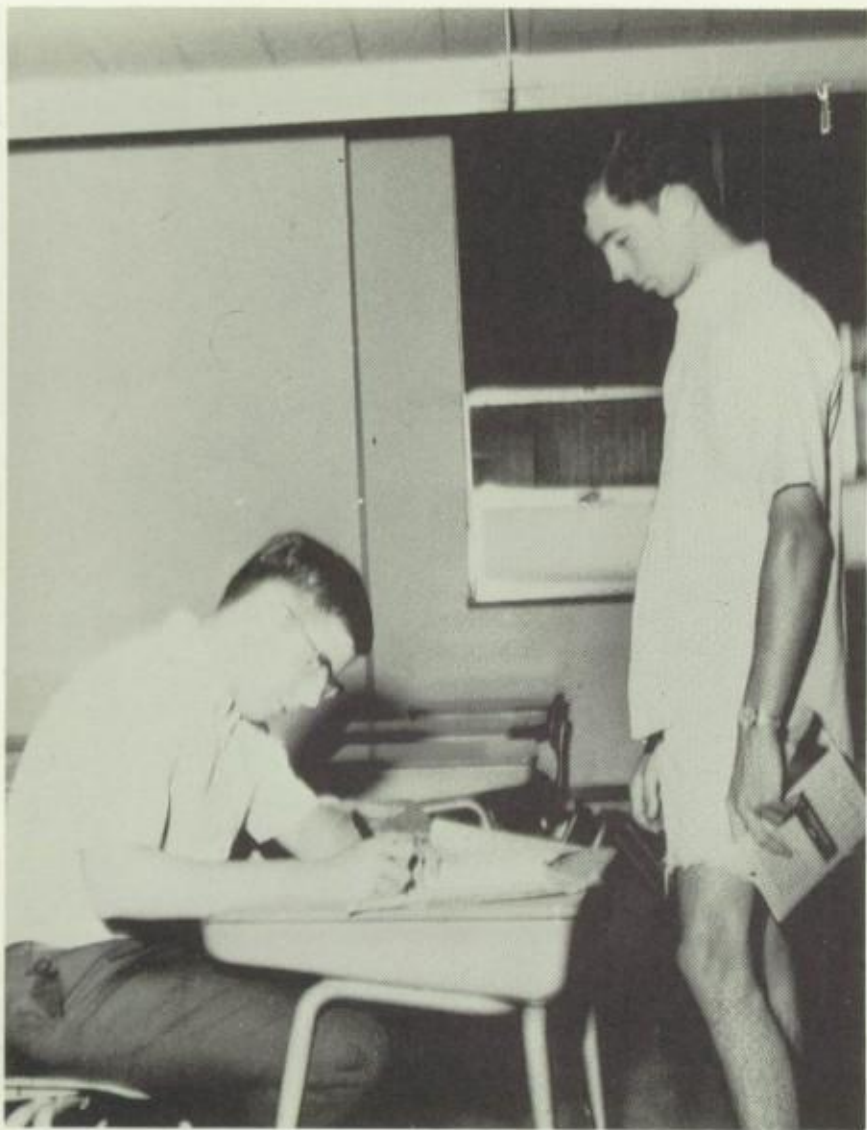

The school's activities begin in August with summer football practice.

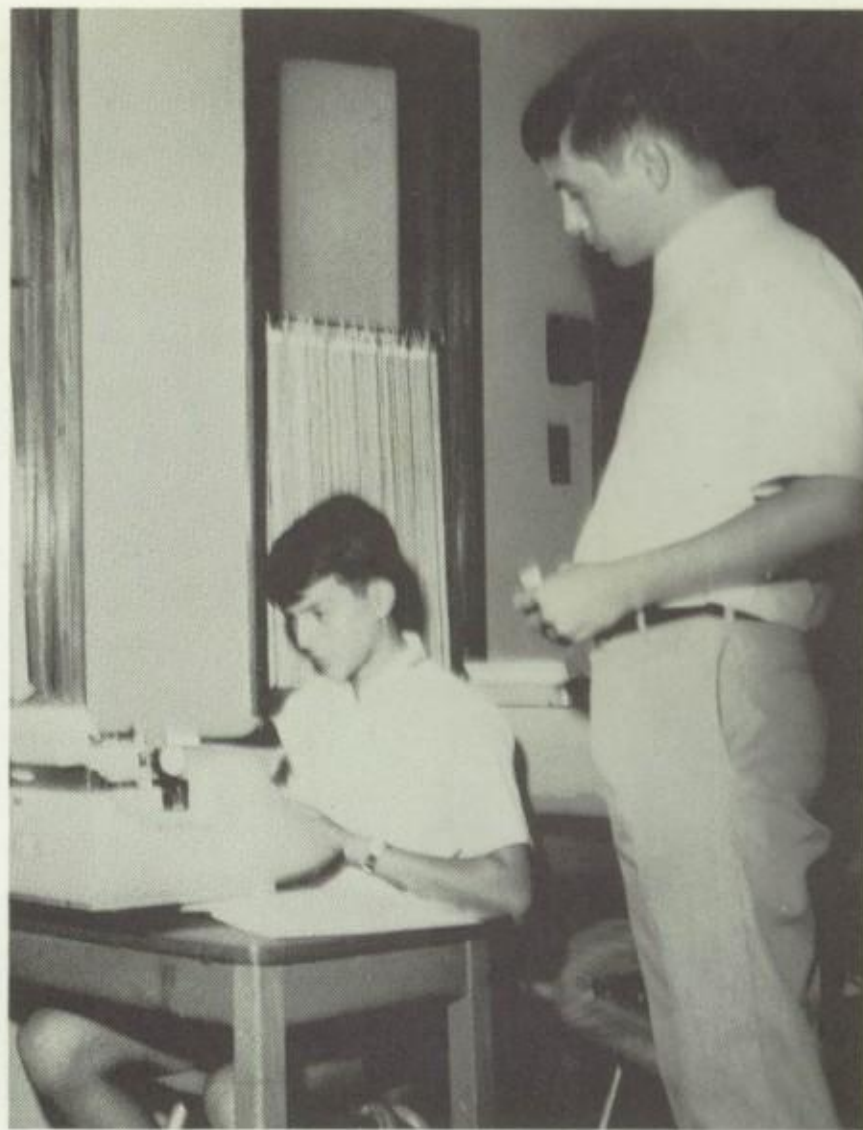

As we embark on a new decade, our thoughts naturally drift backward to the period when University Military School was a struggling new institution, as one of the first military schools in Alabama. Brief examination shows us that an astonishing amount of change has occurred. In 1893, the school activities extended to no more than nine months each year, and were probably arranged according to the convenience of the twenty-five students. Present day U.M.S. however conveys a drastically different picture. With boarding students, our student body has increased thirtyfold and the campus is alive the year round. With such a circumstance in mind, the "Cadet" of 1970 chooses as its theme, "U.M.S.—Around the Year."

Col. Hanks and Major Hinson are helping Juniors to decide their schedules for the upcoming year.

Tony Brown is assigning John Walker his lock.

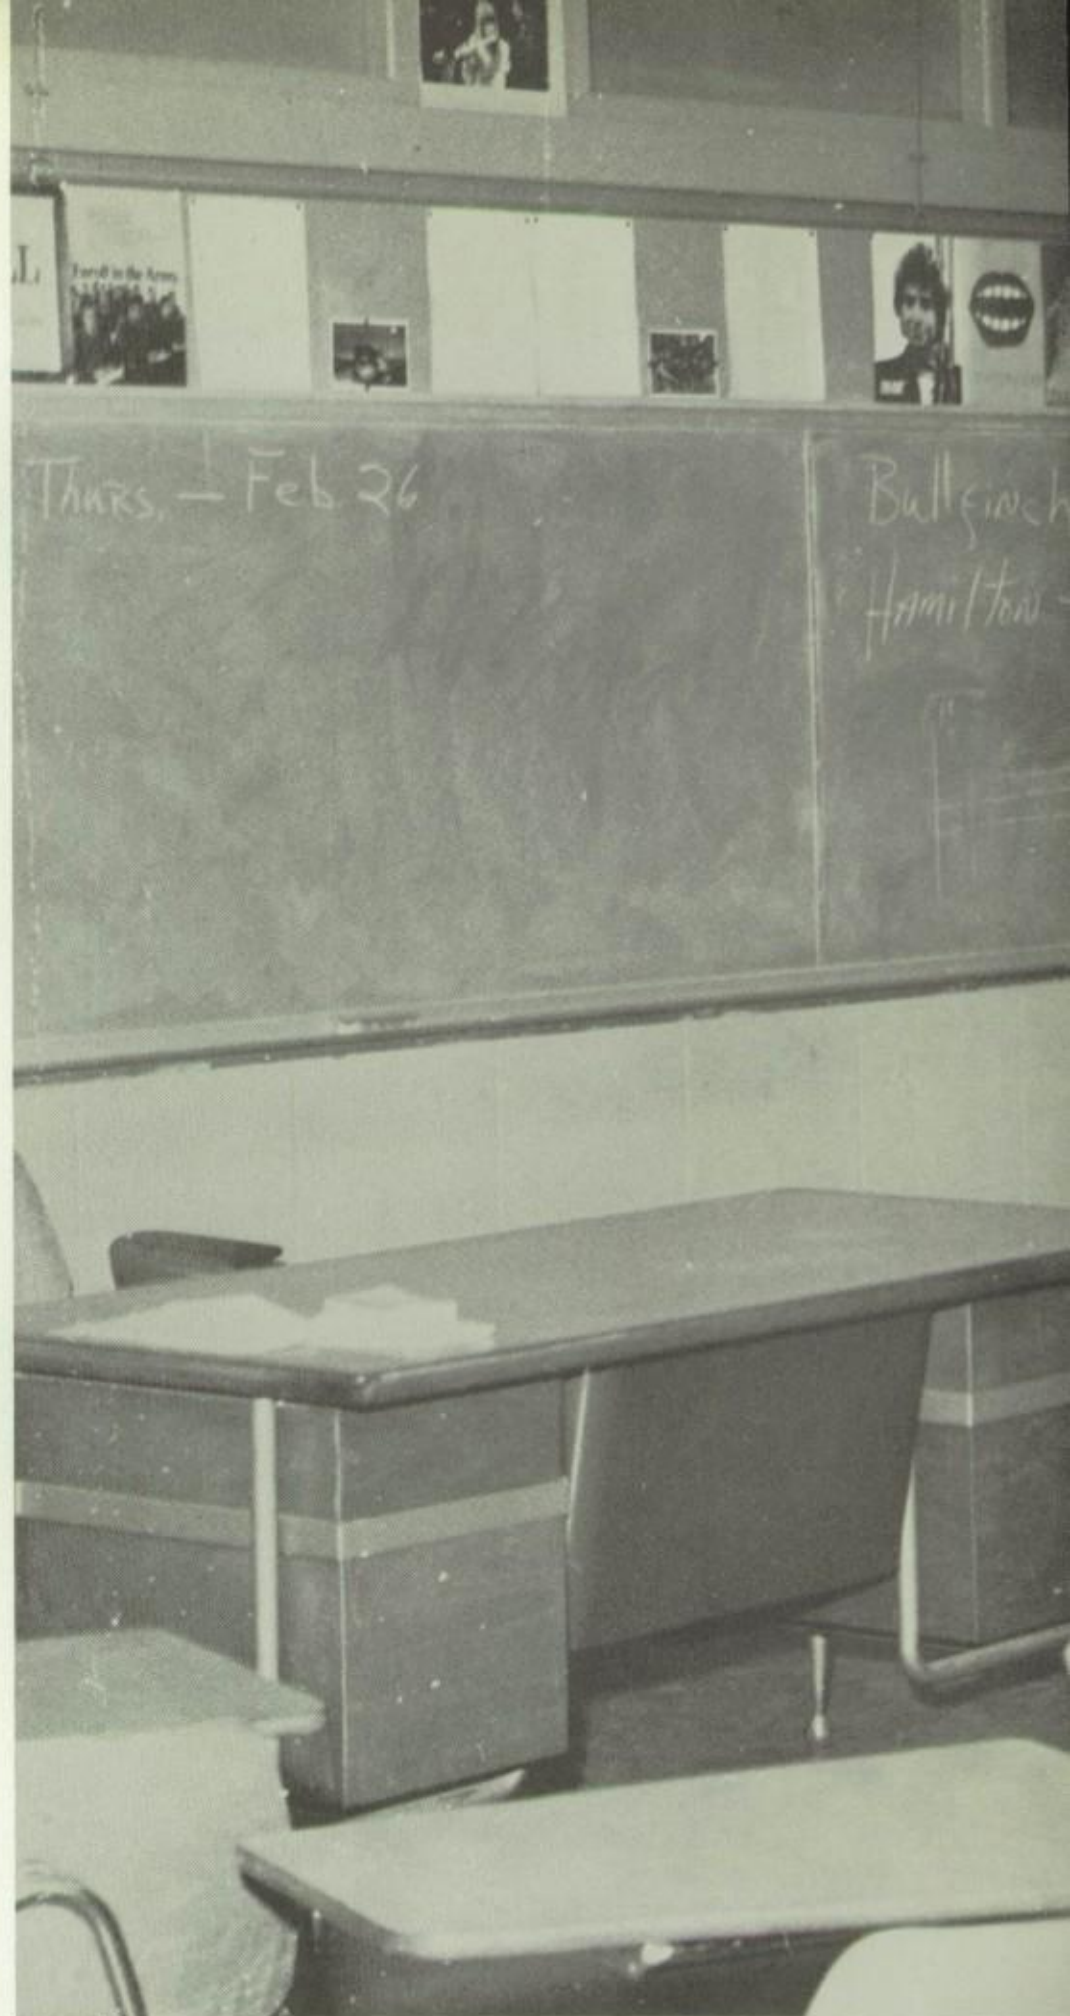

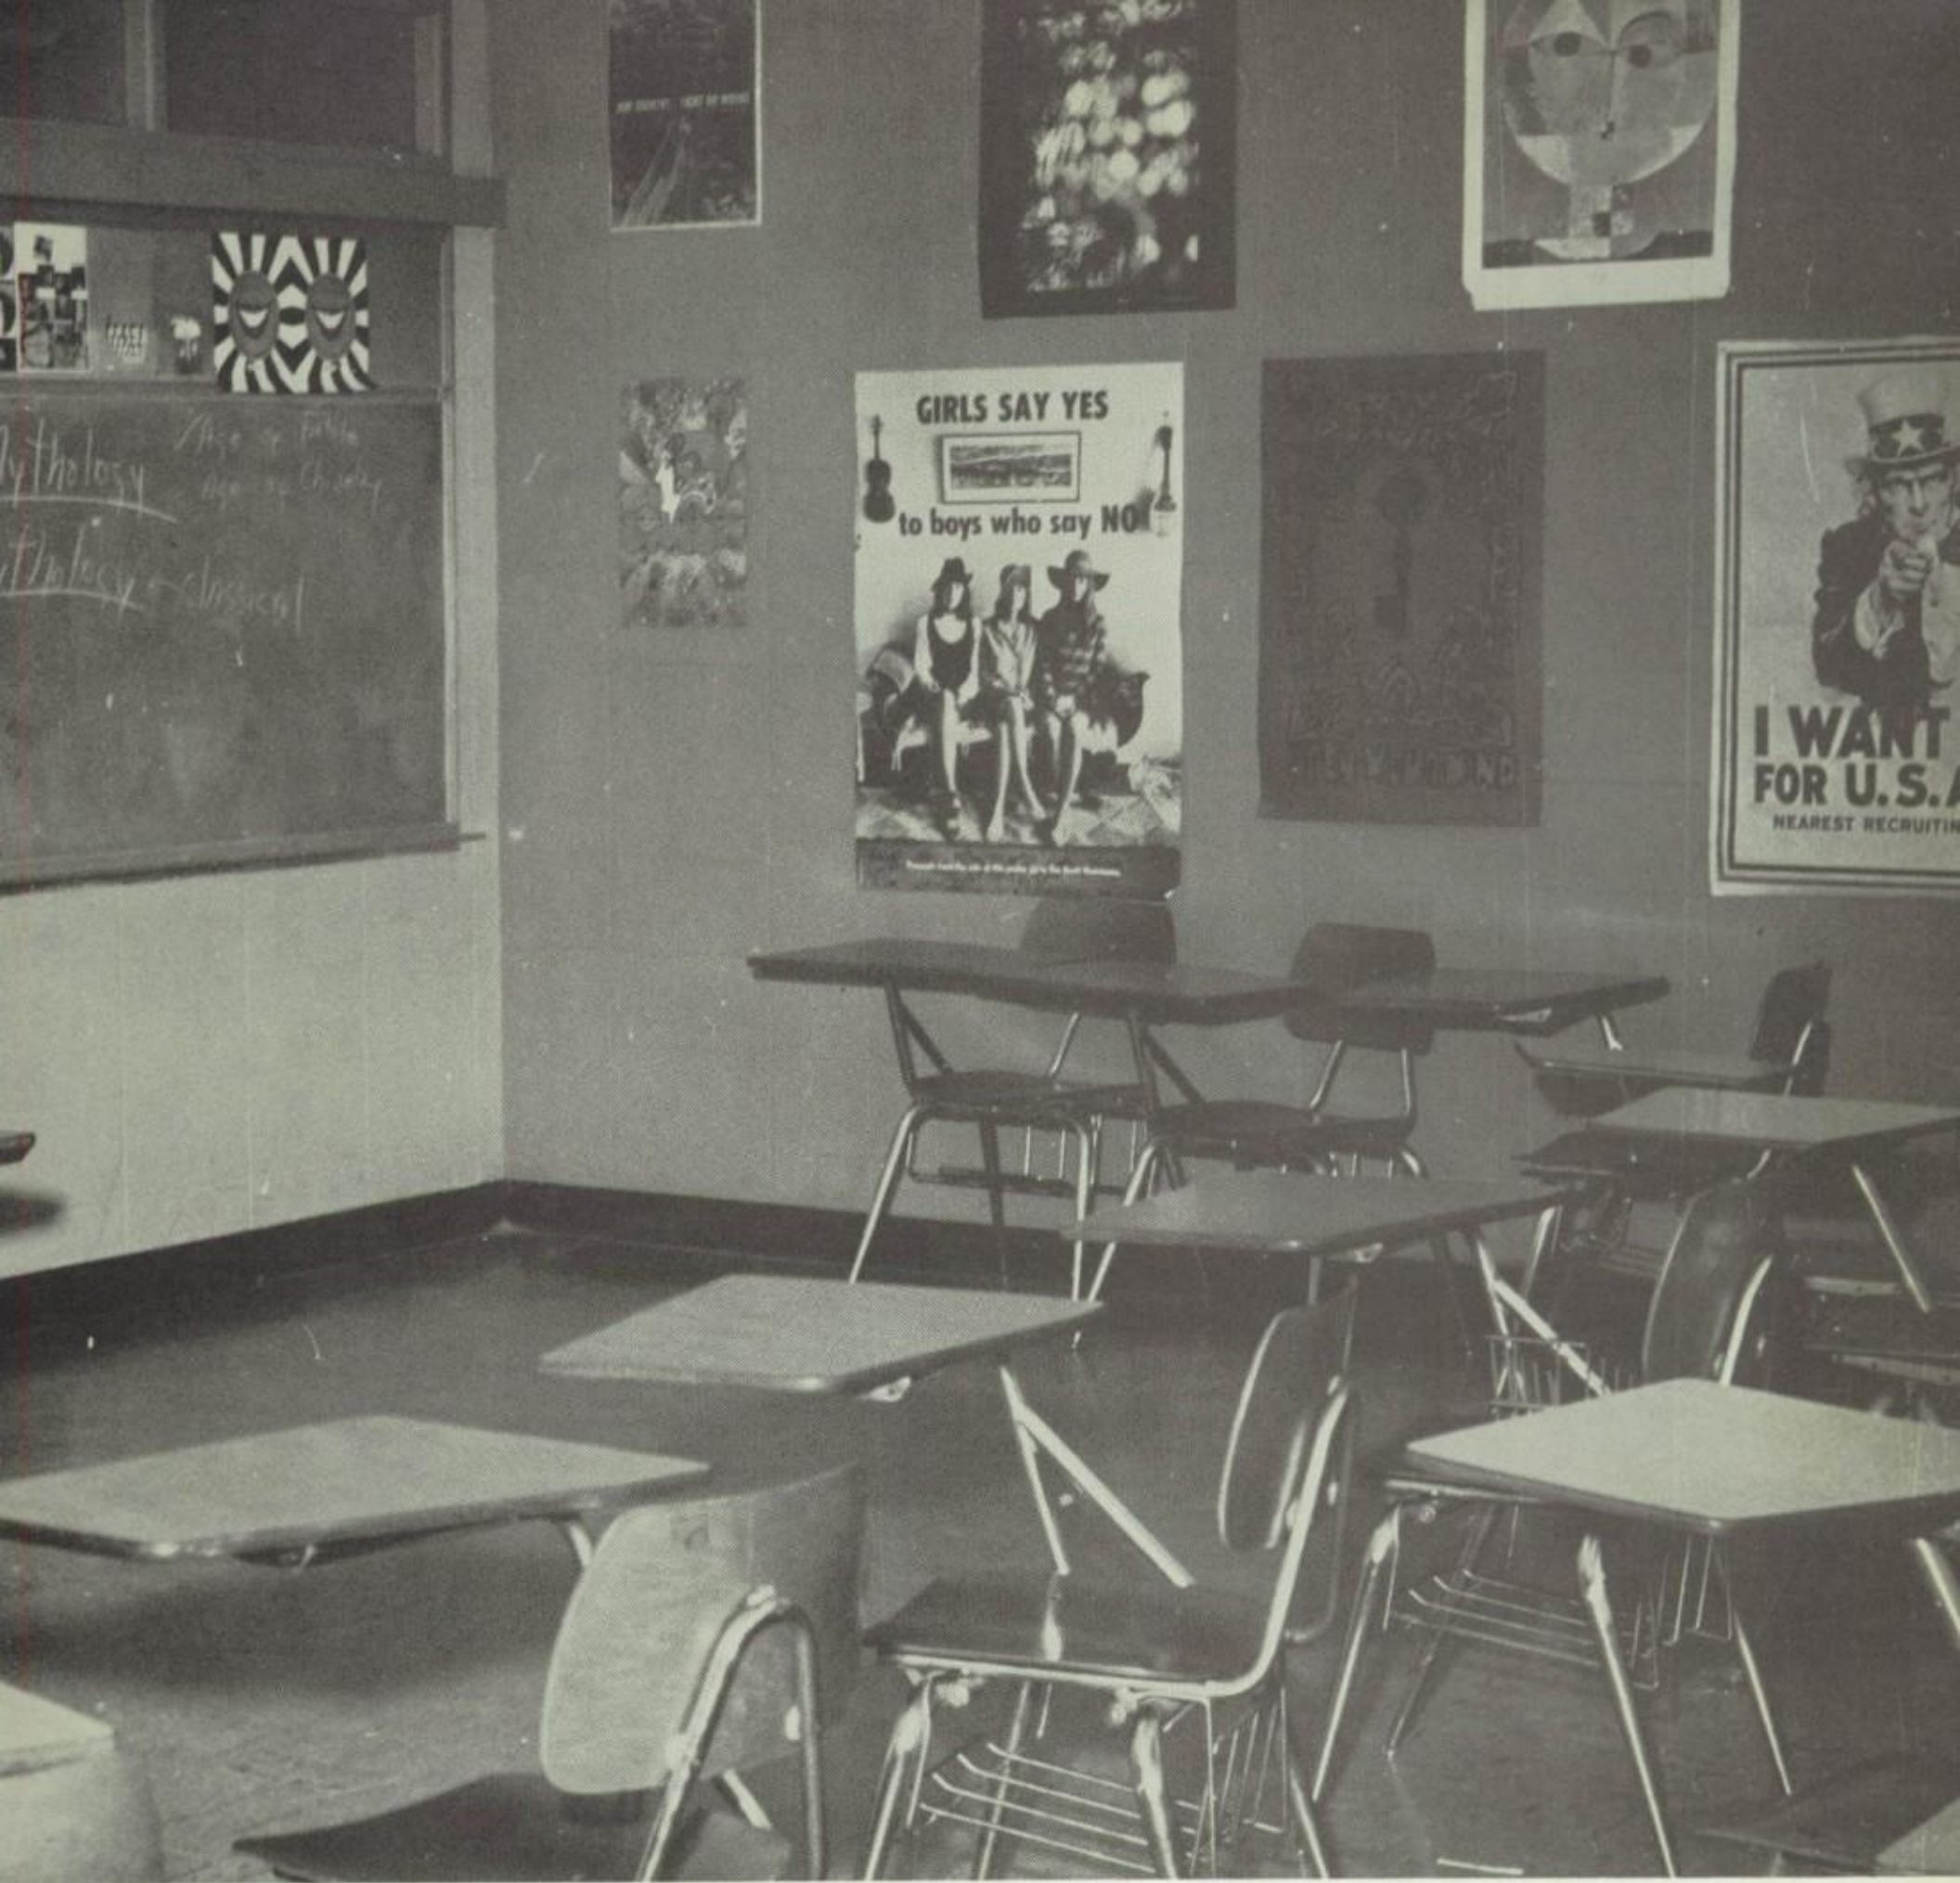

Jimmy Gewin is typing up Cooter Brown's schedule at registration.

Mathematics

The Mathematics program at U.M.S. is divided into two phases. The advanced program for those students who expect to enter a field requiring much math starts with Algebra I in the eighth grade, and goes all the way to Math V, including Calculus, in the twelfth grade. The regular program is for those students who will not need so much math. This program includes two years of algebra and one year each of plane geometry, trigonometry and solid geometry.

Science

The Science Department at U.M.S. attempts to give students a foundation for the continued study of science in higher education. The courses are designed to give students a working knowledge of the physical world and an appreciation for the laws of nature, science, and scientific logic.

The seventh and eighth grade general science courses lead up to the study of Physical Science in the ninth grade. Biology is offered to sophomores, and Chemistry is offered to juniors. Physics is the most advanced science course offered, and it is directed at seniors only.

Maj. Price explains some Physics to John Walker.

Taul asks Col. Whistler a question.

Foreign Languages

The U.M.S. Foreign Languages Department attempts to prepare students for a further study of foreign languages in college and to give a basic understanding of a language. Courses in German, Spanish and Latin are offered. In these courses, oral-aural skills are developed, but particular emphasis is placed on reading and writing skills.

It is almost universally recognized that the study of foreign languages is indispensable to a modern liberal education. This department attempts to provide this quality instruction to meet the most exacting demands.

Social Studies

The Social Studies Department at U.M.S. attempts to give students an understanding of the history of the Western Civilization and a general knowledge of their American heritage. To achieve this purpose, U.M.S. students are given a background in political science, economics, religion and philosophy. This gives U.M.S.

graduates the knowledge and wisdom needed to live in modern society.

Electives

Electives at U.M.S. are those subjects which are entirely optional and are designed to widen the students understanding of today's world. Later, students find these courses have great value.

Typing is designed to help the student in preparing neat papers when doing essays, reports, etc. Speech is directed at those students who feel they will be doing public speaking and want direction in doing this. Students who are interested in fast and accurate answers to math problems take Slide Rule. Students interested in becoming engineers take Engineering Drawing. Driver Education is offered for those students about to get their driver license or permit.

Elementary

The Elementary Department, at U.M.S. is responsible for preparing the younger boys for high school. This must be done academically and mentally. The boys must be given enough academic knowledge to handle high school work, and they must achieve some degree of maturity in order to handle high school life and subjects.

ORGANIZATIONS

The seniors of the National Honor Society are: First Row: E. Fuchs, B. Moore, W. Coats, N. Holmes, P. Wiley, K. Weber, J. Coggin. Second Row: W. Stimpson, T. Taul, J. Damrich, F. McConnell, J. Porter, R. Murray, H. Gewin.

National Honor Society

The U.M.S. Chapter of the National Honor Society has become a functioning organization this year. Its activities began even before the school year began. Some members aided in the letterwork of the registration process. Later, members sold advertisements for the U.M.S. Theatre Guild presentation, The Crucible. Other activities participated in were the ushering of the annual Christmas Program and the revival of the tutoring program for deficient students.

Juniors are: First Row: R. Hoffman, J. McGraw, S. Leak, A. Galanos, N. Johnston, J. Thigpen, A. Brown, V. Gulas. Second Row: M. Mosteller, R. Dunn, B. Smith, K. Diehl,

C. Brown, F. Ellis, S. Lapeyrouse, D. Mullins, H. Irish. Not pictured: M. Ballard.

Honor Council

Each grade elects representatives to be on the Honor Council. This council is an important organization at U.M.S. Its duty is to aid in the enforcement of the Honor System which says that a cadet will not lie, cheat, steal, or tolerate any cadet who does. When a cadet is suspected of any of these acts, he is brought before the Honor Council, which tries to determine what actually has happened. In this way the students themselves help to preserve the integrity of the student body.

Members are: N. Johnston (junior), A. Harris (sophomore), A. Galanos (junior), E. Gladney (freshman), H. Brown (sophomore), M. Hartzes (seventh grade), R. Dunn (junior), J. Fetterman (eighth grade), G. Wheeler (freshman), C. Brown (junior).

Officers are: J. Coggin (sergeant at arms), W. Stimpson (secretary), W. Coats (president), J. Porter (vice-president), F. Rayford (sergeant at arms).

Cadet Chorus

Captain Ted Beverly's second year with the Cadet Chorus has been quite successful. The group became more selective this year and was reduced to a smaller but better sounding body. The result was that the chorus received three superior ratings at the district competition and qualified for the state competition later this year.

Battalion Review

This years Battalion Review has really outdone its predecessors. Its hard working staff and editor, Jerry Porter, have produced more editions with more consistency than any previous paper at U.M.S. All of this was done without sacrificing the quality that U.M.S. students are accustomed to. In fact, the general opinion of the students is that the paper has become better this year than it ever has been in the past.

Editor, Jerry Porter, takes Business Manager, Johnny Coggin, for a ride. These two did more for the Battalion Review than any other individuals.

The members of the Business Staff are: J. Damrich, J. May, J. Seignious, W. Ryan. Second row: N. Nicolson, D. McKay, R. Turner, F. Ellis.

The members of the Literary Staff are: J. Friedman, V. Gulas, A. Galanos, B. Smith, H. Cole. Second row: J. McGraw, J. Gerhardt, C. Brown, J. Walker, S. Leak. Not pictured: M. Ballard.

The members of the Editorial Staff are: W. Coats, H. Barnett, C. Greer. Second row: J. Worsham, R. Murray.

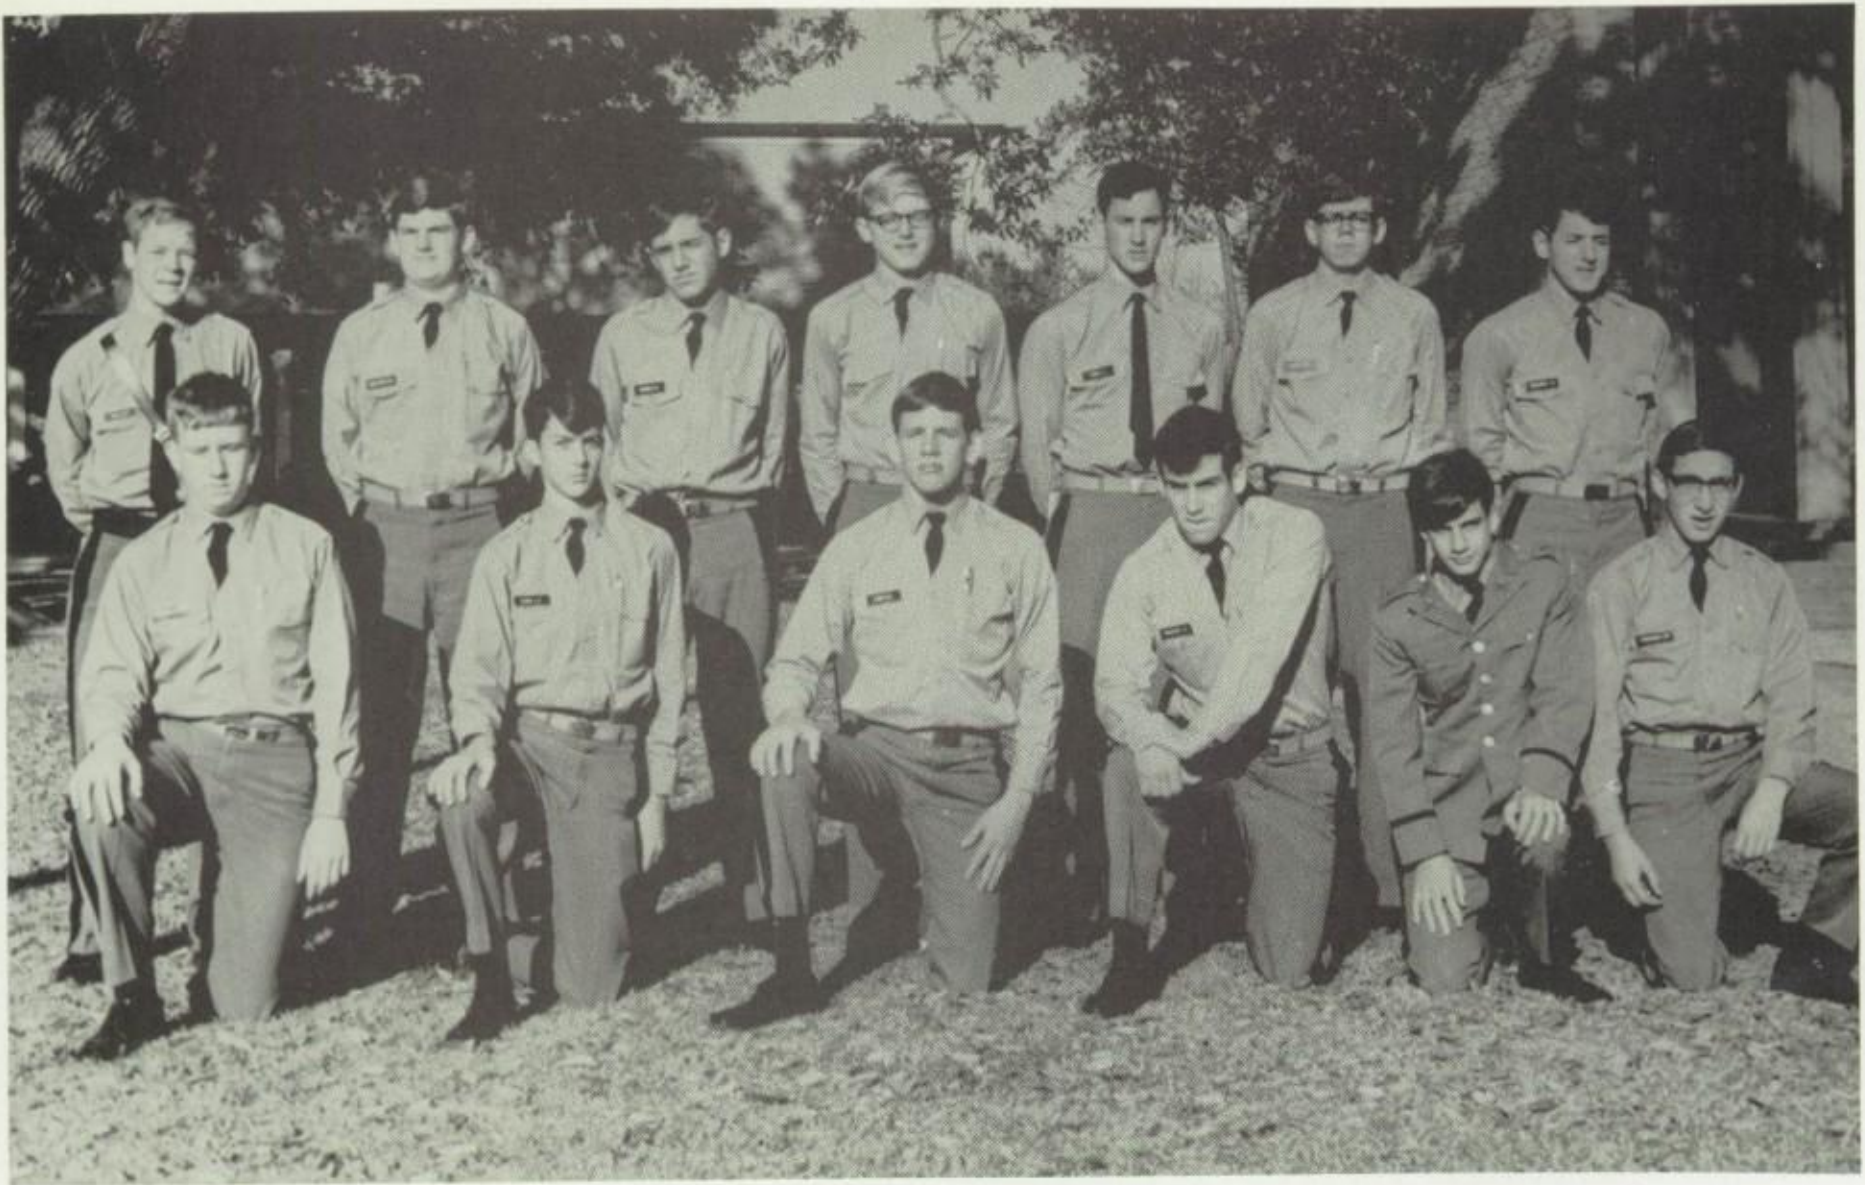

Section Editors are: E. Coats, S. Lapeyrouse, J. Walker, L. Roe, E. Fuchs. Second row: H. Gewin, D. Quina, V. Gulas. Not pictured: W. Coats, B. Smith.

The Cadet

The staff of a yearbook is one of the few campus organizations whose work never ceases. The twelve month duties of producing an annual coupled with the task of improving or changing it impose a tremendous job. Such was the job which faced the editors and photographers of the 1970 "Cadet". Long hours after school and on weekends were devoted to the tedious work of producing this year's book, now enlarged to a medium size. The only satisfaction to such a group of people comes with the arrival of an attractive and successful "Cadet". The question of success is, as usual, left to the tastes of the reader.

Editor, Blake Moore, and Business Manager, Mike Ballard, are the two who are most responsible for the 1970 "Cadet."

The General Staff is: G. Brown J. Gewin, S. Leak, J. Woulard, T. Twitty, J. Friedman. Second row: H. Cole, N. Nicolson,

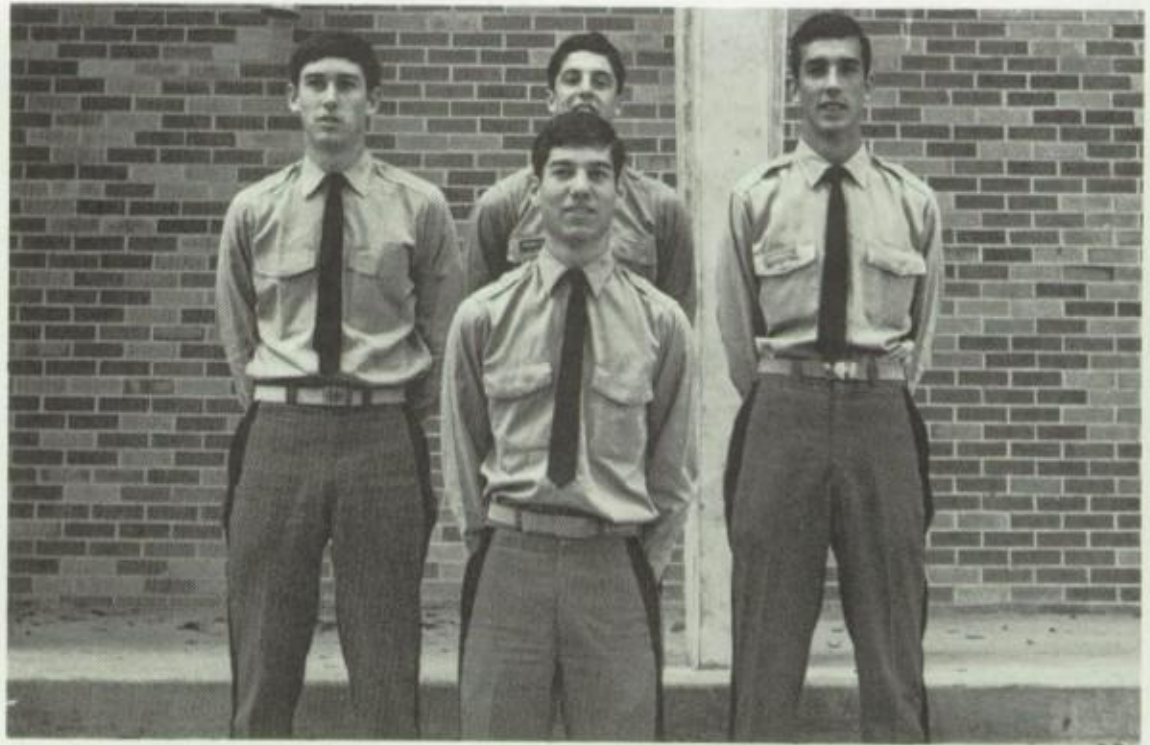

C. Brown, T. Levensailor, L. Lane, D. McKay, J. Gerhardt.

The photographers for the "Cadet" of 1969-70 are Dan McKay, Burke Laurendine, and Ray Morris.

Key Club

The Key Club at U.M.S. consists of boys who have an interest in helping their community. With the theme of community help in mind, the Key Club collected money by providing refreshments at U.M.S. home basketball games. It also passed out letters for the City Improvement Commission. The Key Club is under the able leadership of Chris Gewin, its president. Chris is planning for the Key Club to attend the State Convention in April.

Officers are: J. Seignious (Secretary), A. Galanos (2nd Vice-President), H. Gewin (President), W. Stimpson (Vice-President). Not pictured: F. Rayford (Treasurer).

Members are: M. Mosteller, E. Coats, J. Gewin, B. Moore, F. McConnell, C. Johnston, P. Wiley. Second row: D. Banta, G. Lum, H. Brown, S. Leak, J. Ezell, F. Harris, A. Brown,

N. Nicholson. Third row: W. Taylor, A. Harris, J. Woulard, F. Ellis, M. Elliott, S. Lapeyrouse, R. Dunn. Not pictured: W. Coats.

The Key Club Sweetheart of 1970 is Ann Brown.

Chris Gewin sells soft drinks for the Key Club at a basketball game.

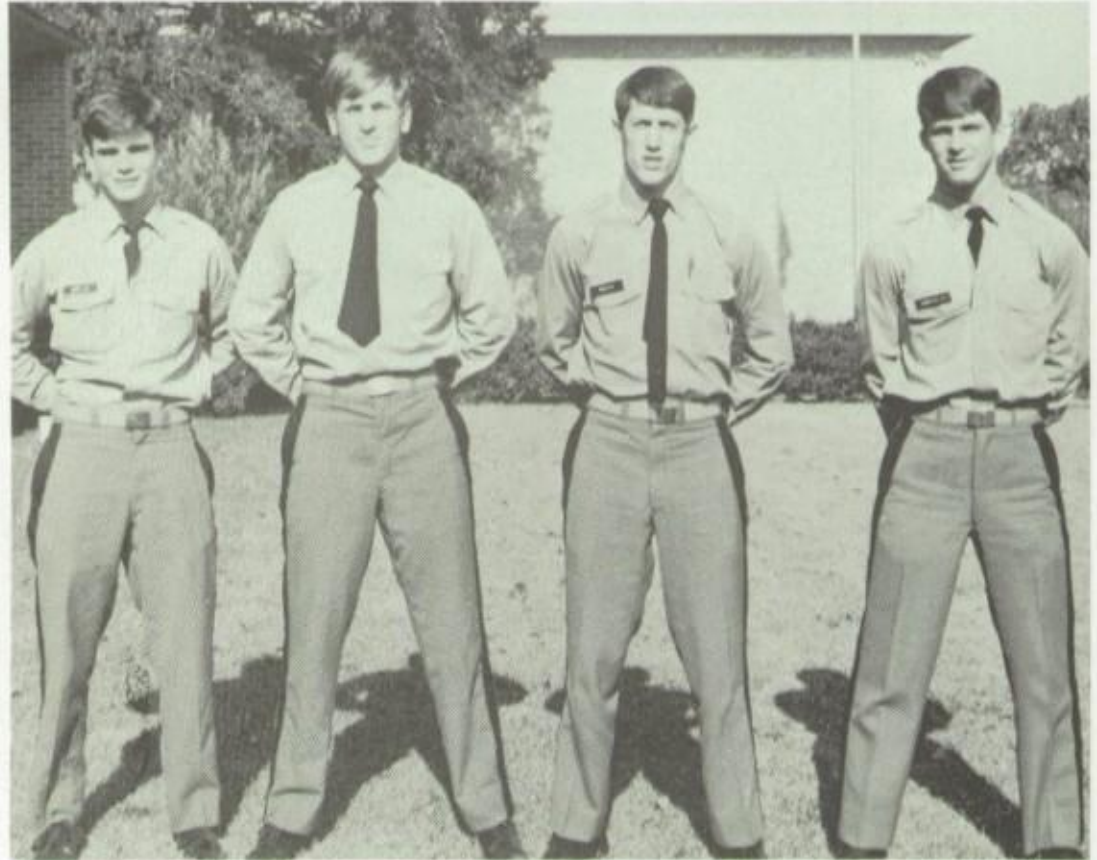

Spectators show that they appreciate the refreshments which the Key Club provided for home basketball games.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of the students. Its members gain their positions either by being elected to their post or by being elected to the presidency of their class. The officers are elected by the entire student body.

This year, the Council sold booster ribbons for the football games and held pep rallies before those played at home. The Council also raised money for the janitors on Christmas. In addition to these activities, the Council has helped to improve the faculty-student relationship by serving as an intermediary between the two.

Officers are: J. Hunt (Treasurer), J. Damrich (President), J. Ison (Secretary), N. Johnston (Vice-President).

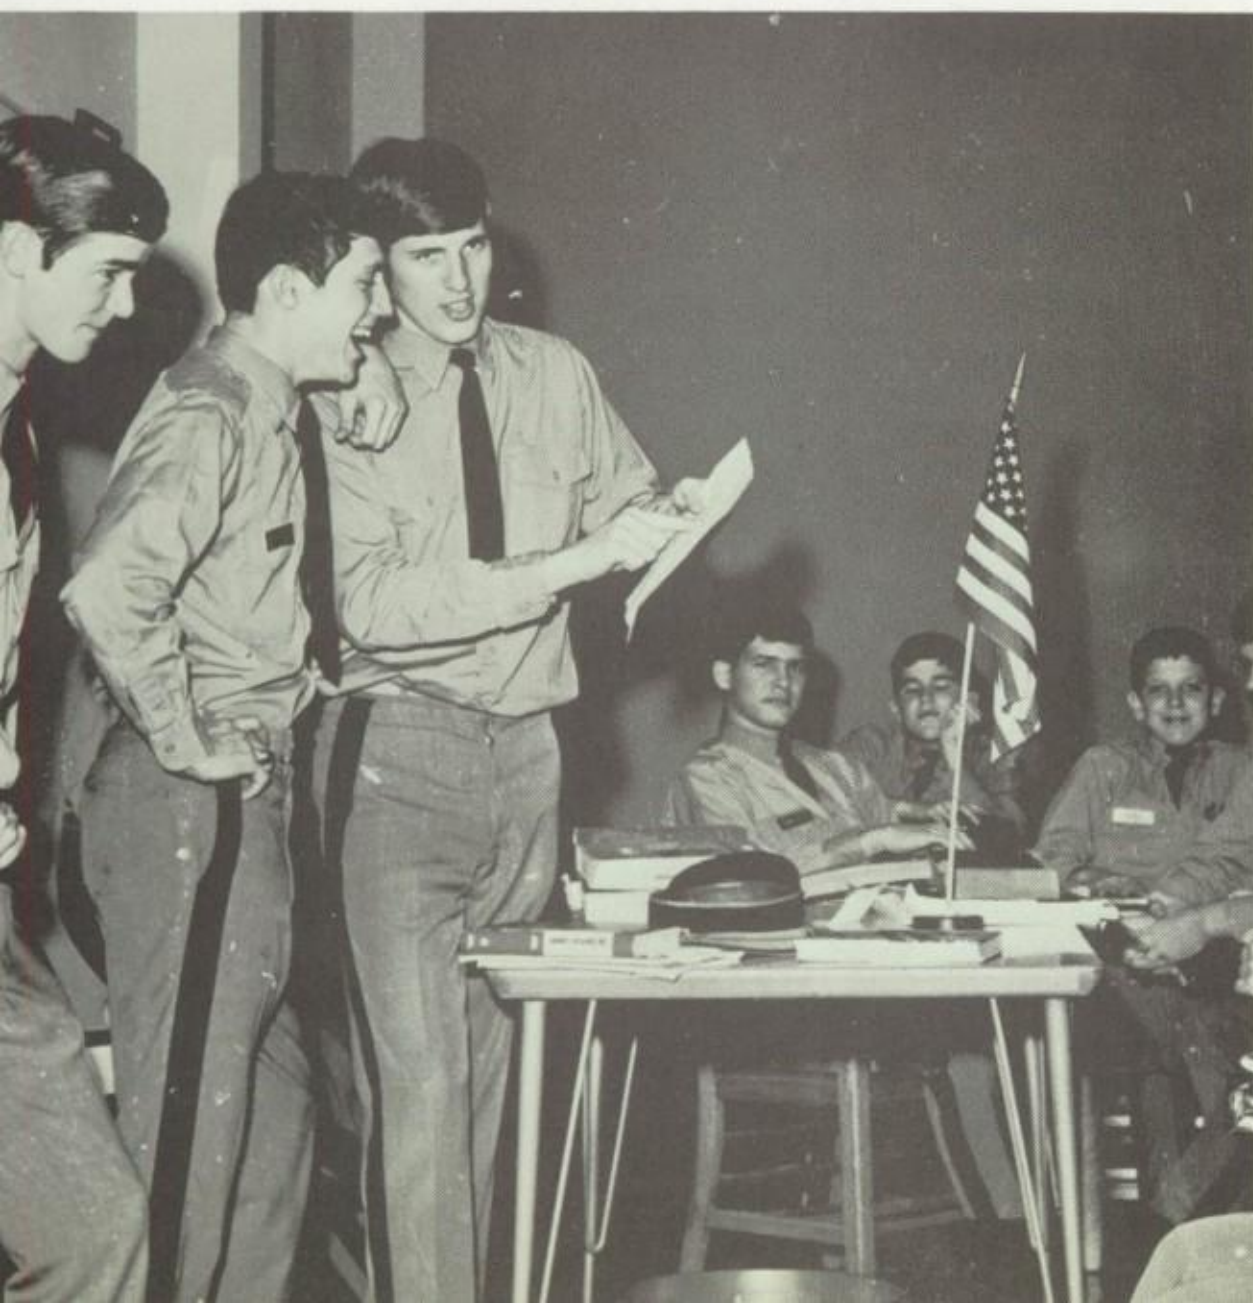

The speaker at the 1969 Father-Son banquet, sponsored by the council, was Josh Powell.

Representatives are: R. Delaney, J. Foshee, J. McGowin, T. Montgomery, J. Montgomery, W. Harrison, R. Mitchell, J. Carpenter, S. Lapeyrouse. Second row: W. Coats, F.

McConnell, J. Hunt, F. Benedick, J. Fuchs, J. Damrich, J. Ison, E. Coats, D. Newell, F. Hicks, N. Johnston. Not pictured: C. Taylor, B. Dumas, J. Duffy, R. Popwell, D. Cahill.

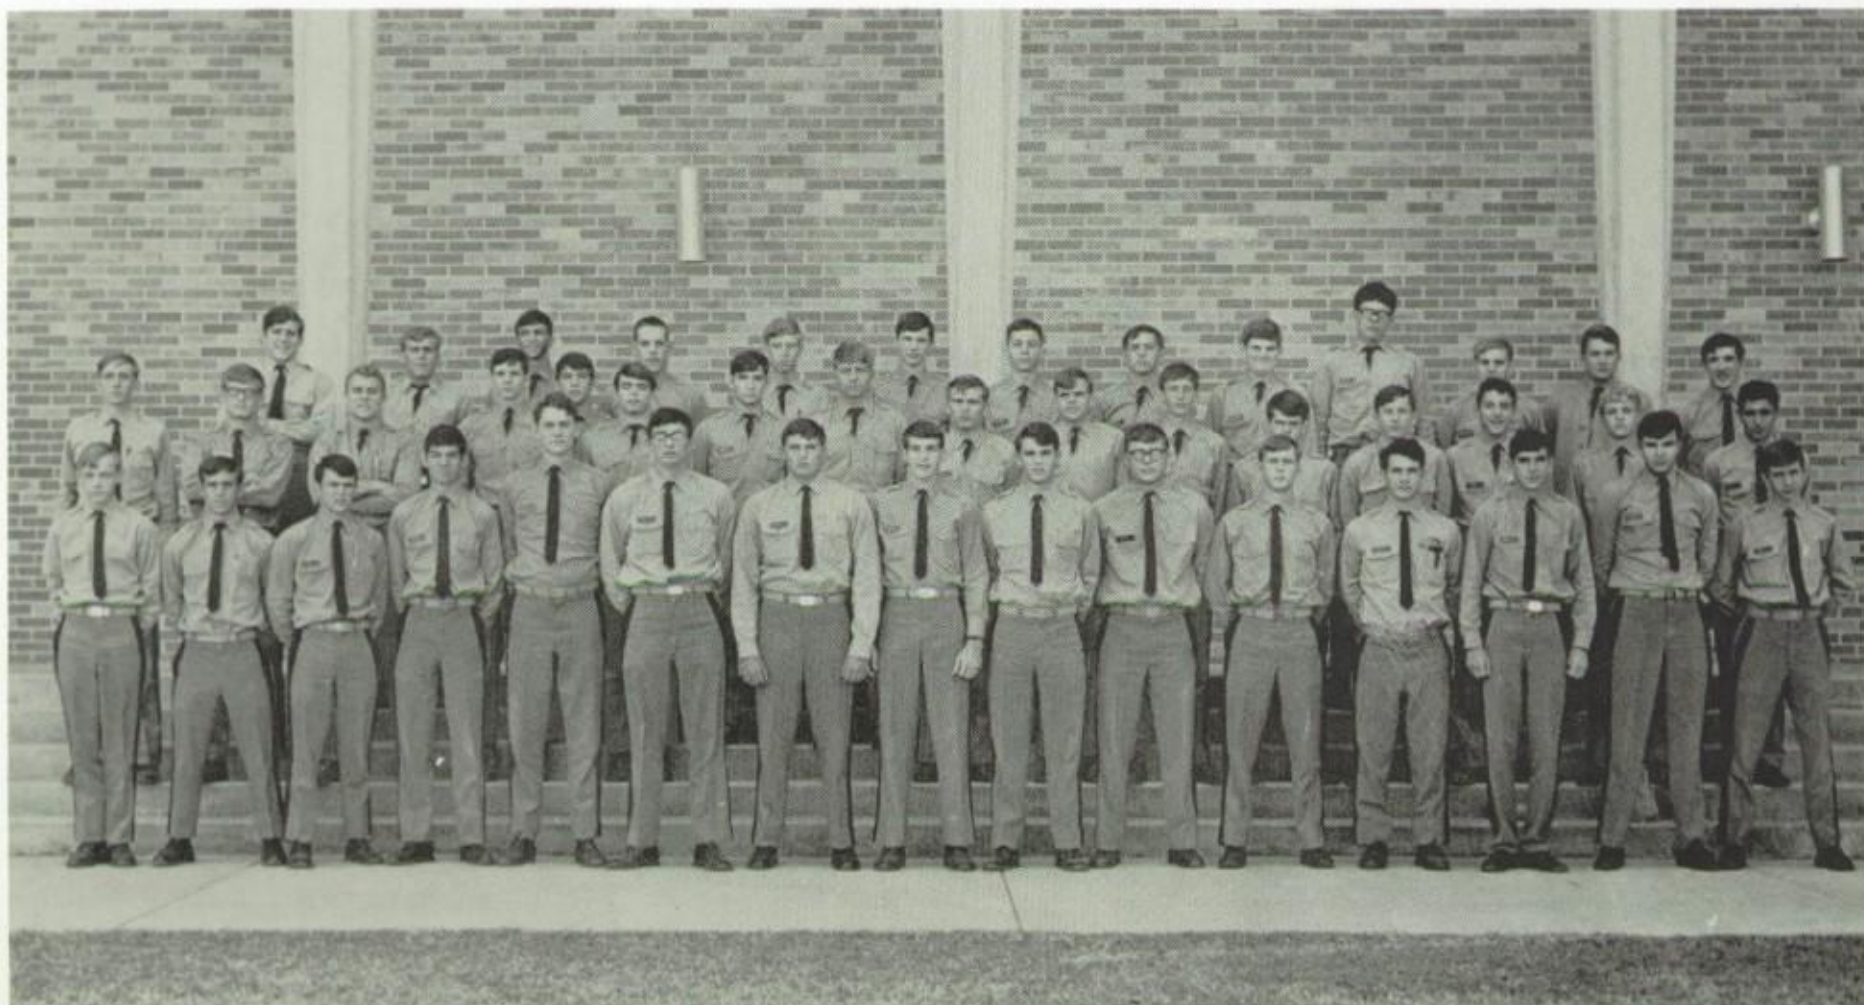

John Damrich conducts a Student Council meeting.

“W” Club

The “W” Club has no meetings, no officers, and no practical functions, but it is an organization which any member is proud to be in. The qualifications for membership are tough. To get in, a cadet has to work diligently at some varsity sport and succeed to the extent that he receives a letter.

The football team was authorized this year to wear maroon sweaters.

Members: L. Roe, P. Wiley, J. Murray, H. Gewin, R. Anderson, W. Patrick, F. McConnell, R. Kurtts, E. King, J. Croom, W. Allgood, C. Johnston, W. Sewell, L. Curry, J. May. Second row: C. Greer, R. Elliott, M. Mosteller, B. Radcliff, C. Walton, B. McKinney, R. Barrett, D. Turner, F. Benedick, W. Rippey, F.

Harris, G. Grady, A. Harris, J. Gerhardt, W. Taylor, E. Fuchs. Third row: H. Binion, F. Ellis, S. Lapeyrouse, R. Dunn, C. Root, M. Elliott, B. Smith, C. Brown, N. Nicolson, B. Moore, M. Ballard, M. McCrory. Not pictured: J. Friedman, W. Coats, J. Damrich, N. Holmes.

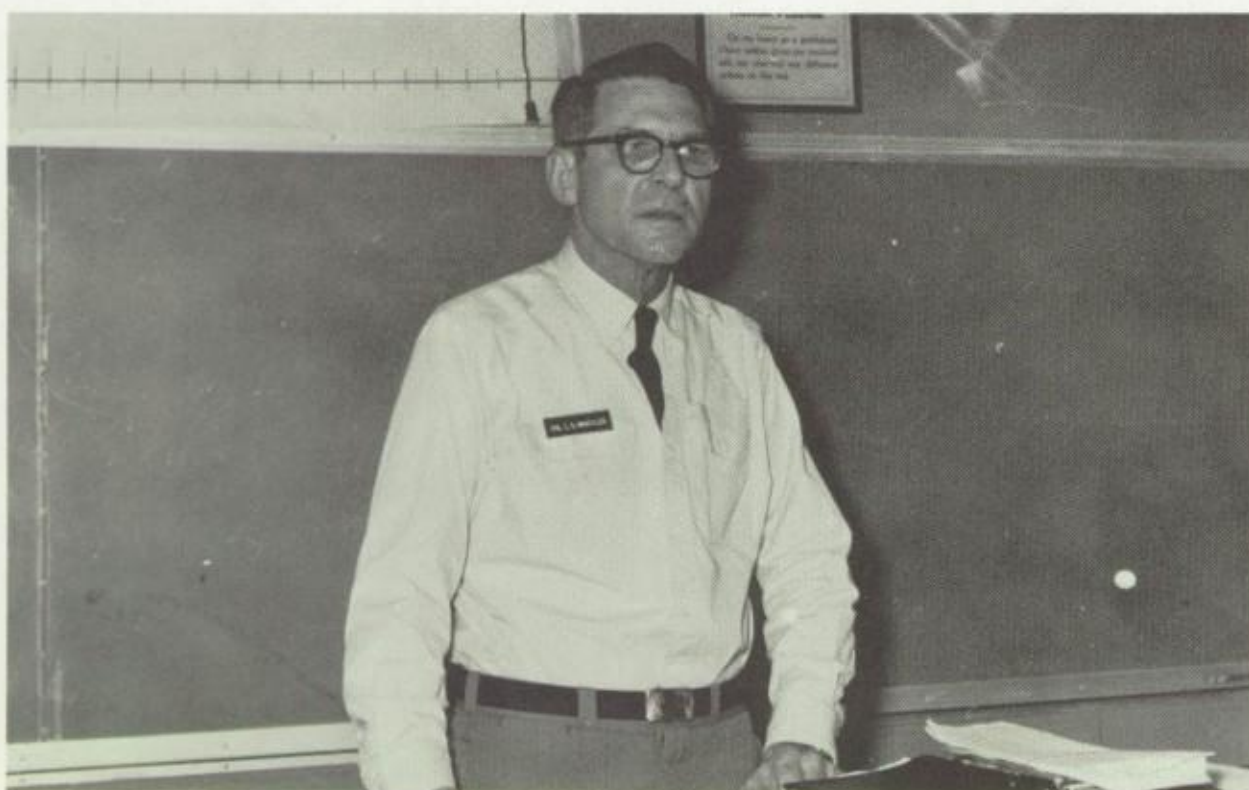

Members are: P. Wiley, C. Johnston, S. McMurphy, R. Barrett, J. Ison, W. Coats, J. Coggin. Second row: S. Lapeyrouse, J. Porter, W. Stimpson, B. Radcliff, H. Binion, M. Mosteller.

Hop Committee

The Hop Committee, consisting of elected juniors and seniors, is the coordinator of the Commencement Hop in May. The members, under the leadership of Sandy Stimpson and Major Filippini, work diligently toward an evening that will be a success and will be remembered by the graduating class.

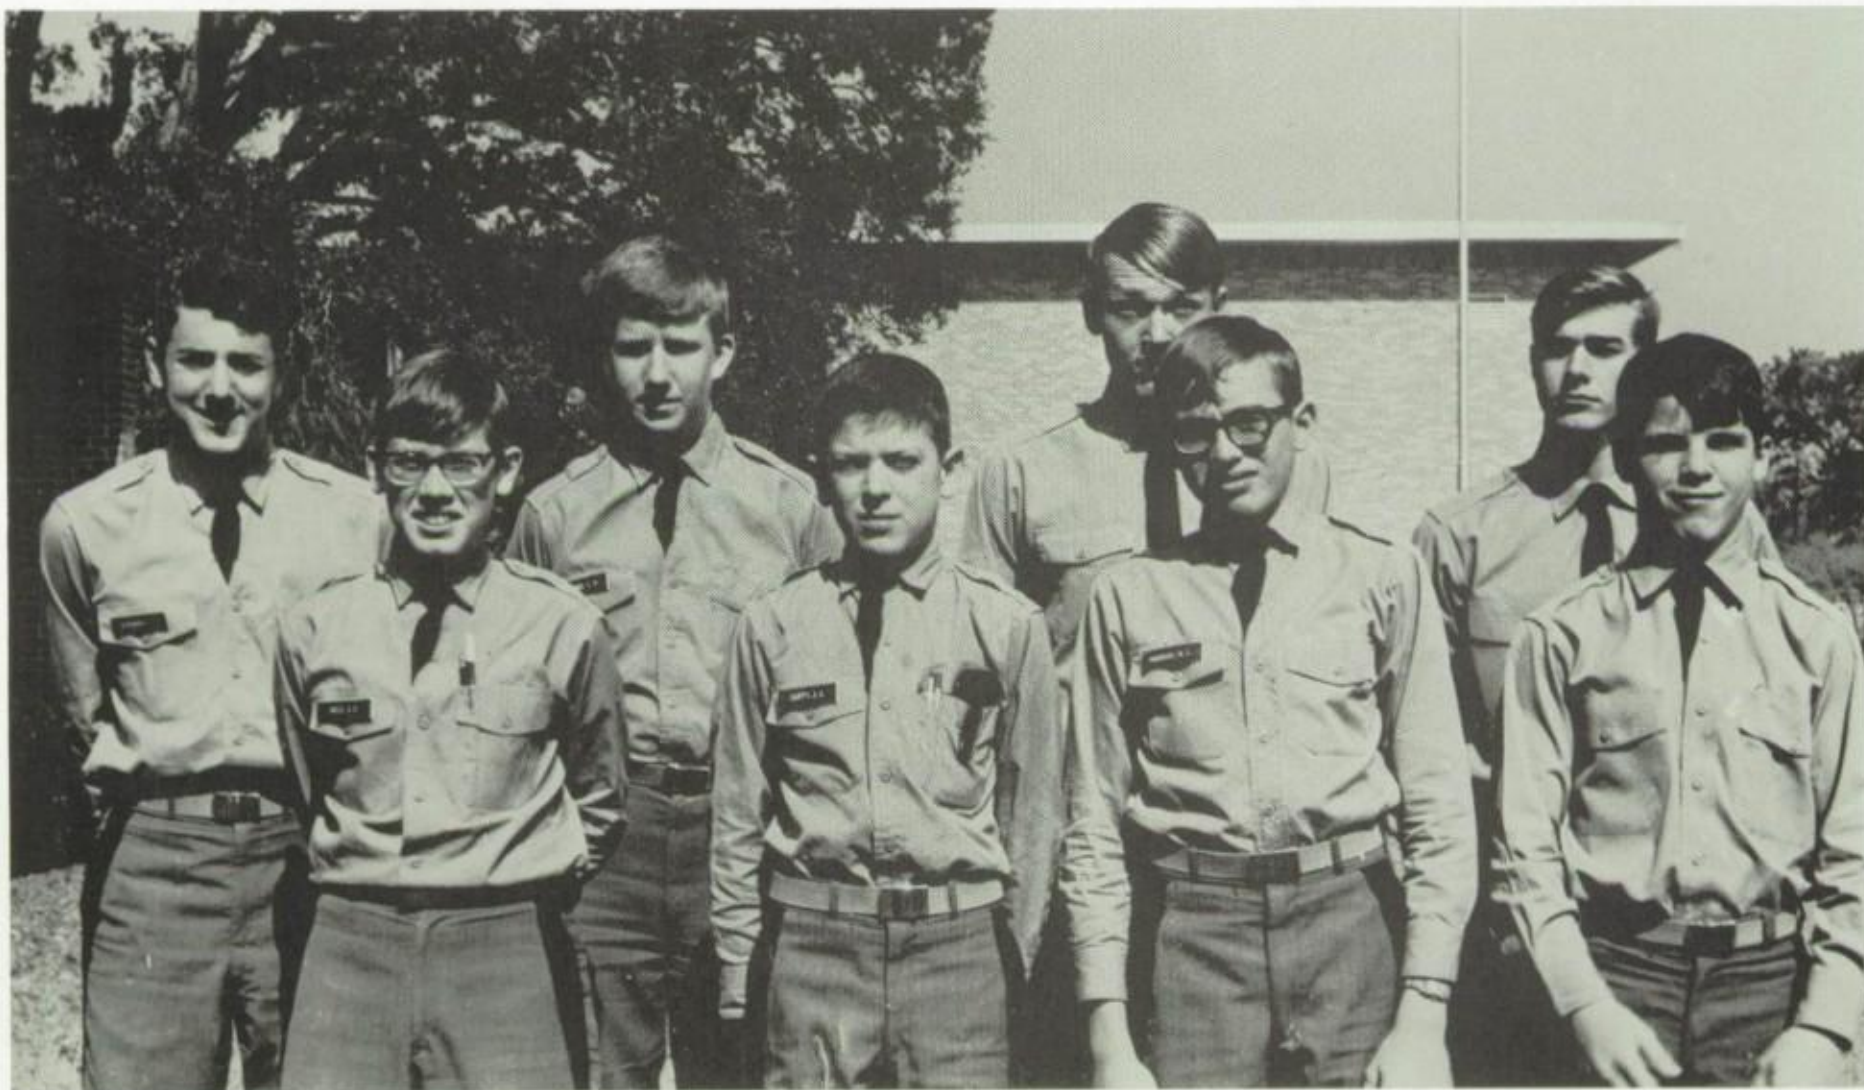

Col. Whistler is the Faculty Advisor of the Hop Committee.

Debate Team

The debate team this year has been debating on the topic of United States unilateral military intervention. The team consists of fairly young debaters, who have done very well and have received several awards. Prospects for continued success at the state tournament look excellent.

Les Barnett demonstrates the art of debating. A senior, Les has long been associated with debating at U.M.S.

Members are: A. Reed, J. Duffy, M. Roebuck, J. Gallalee. Second row: J. Gerhardt, G. Brown, H. Barnett, W. Ryan.

JETS Club

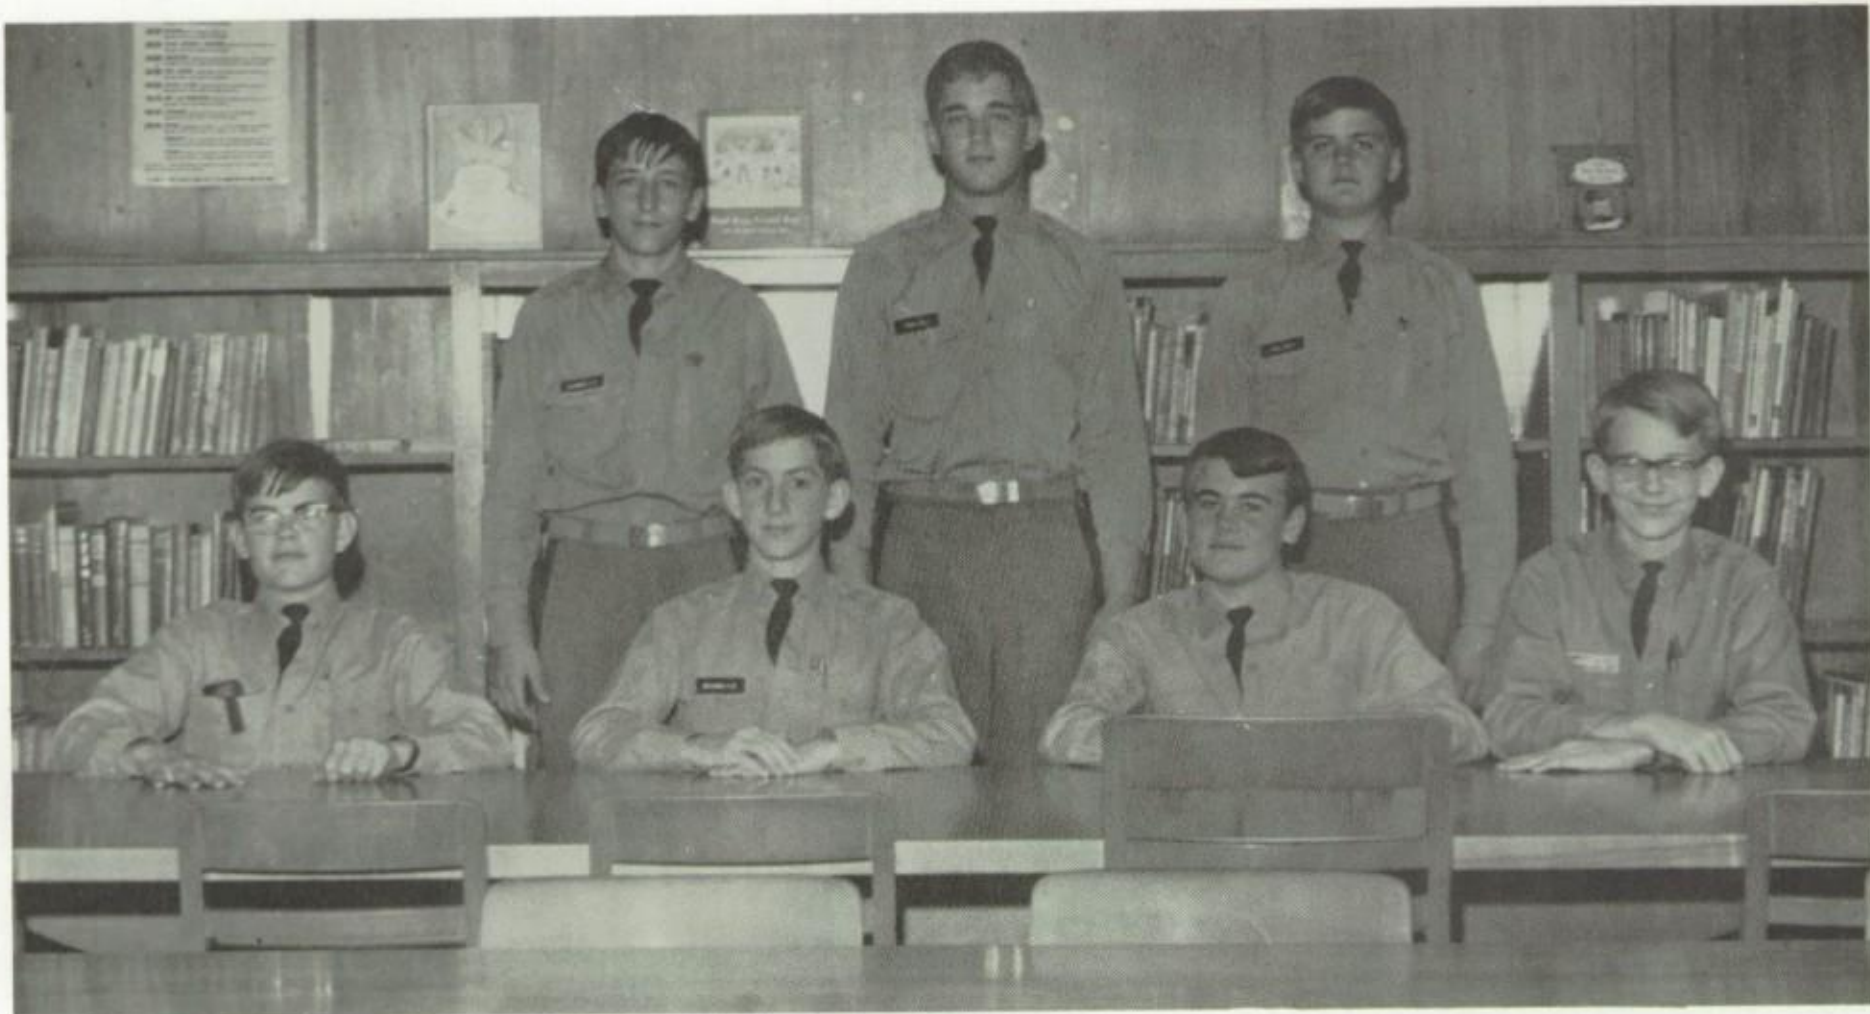

Officers of the JETS Club are: M. McCrory, Vice-President; J. Walker, President; and D. Quina, Secretary-Treasurer.

The JETS, or Junior Engineering Technical Society, consists of boys interested in some aspect of engineering. This year, the JETS took trips to the Lear Jet Plant at Brookley, and to the Alabama Drydock and Shipbuilding Co. They also sponsored a program on lasers and holography at the school. They are ably advised by Maj. E. R. Price, himself, an engineer.

Members are: M. McPhillips, F. Brown, D. Friedman, B. Moore, M. Clark, G. Taylor, D. Cahill. Second row: H. Wilkins, J. Pate, J. Murray, W. Terry, L. Lane, J. Walker.

First Row: J. Turner, R. Wilkins, S. Ellis, J. Hinton. Second Row: J. Skinner, W. Fonde, M. Tull.

Library Assistants

The function of the library assistants is to check out books for students and file them when they are returned. The members of the group volunteer to work during their free period.

First Row: A. Brown, F. Ellis, S. Lapeyrouse, S. Leak. Second Row: J. Meyers, H. Irish, D. George, W. Kilcreas.

Theatre Guild

Officers are: D. Quina, Treasurer; J. Coggin, President; P. Matthews, Secretary; R. Murray, Vice-president.

The Theatre Guild is in its second year of existence at U.M.S. Under the direction of Capt. Woodruff, this group has worked very hard in the production of plays during the school year. Each new production seems to enjoy an increased popularity.

During the fall, the Guild performed Arthur Miller's The Crucible. This production received much favorable criticism. Later this spring, the Theatre Guild will perform You Can't Take It with You by Kaufman and Hart. The rehearsals for this production had already begun at the time of this writing.

Members are: First Row: R. Platt, A. Brown, J. Ezell, D. McKay, G. Brown. Second Row: V. Gulas, F. Hicks, R. Turner, H. Gewin, J. Croom, D. Quina.

Members are: E. Denniston, J. Coggin, J. Worsham, J. Porter, V. Gulas.

Stage Crew

As long as the Dunlap Auditorium-Chapel has been in existence, the stage crew has been a great help to the many programs which have been performed there. This group is responsible for the working of the lights and curtains behind the stage and have often given up their own time to perform this job for non school as well as school functions.

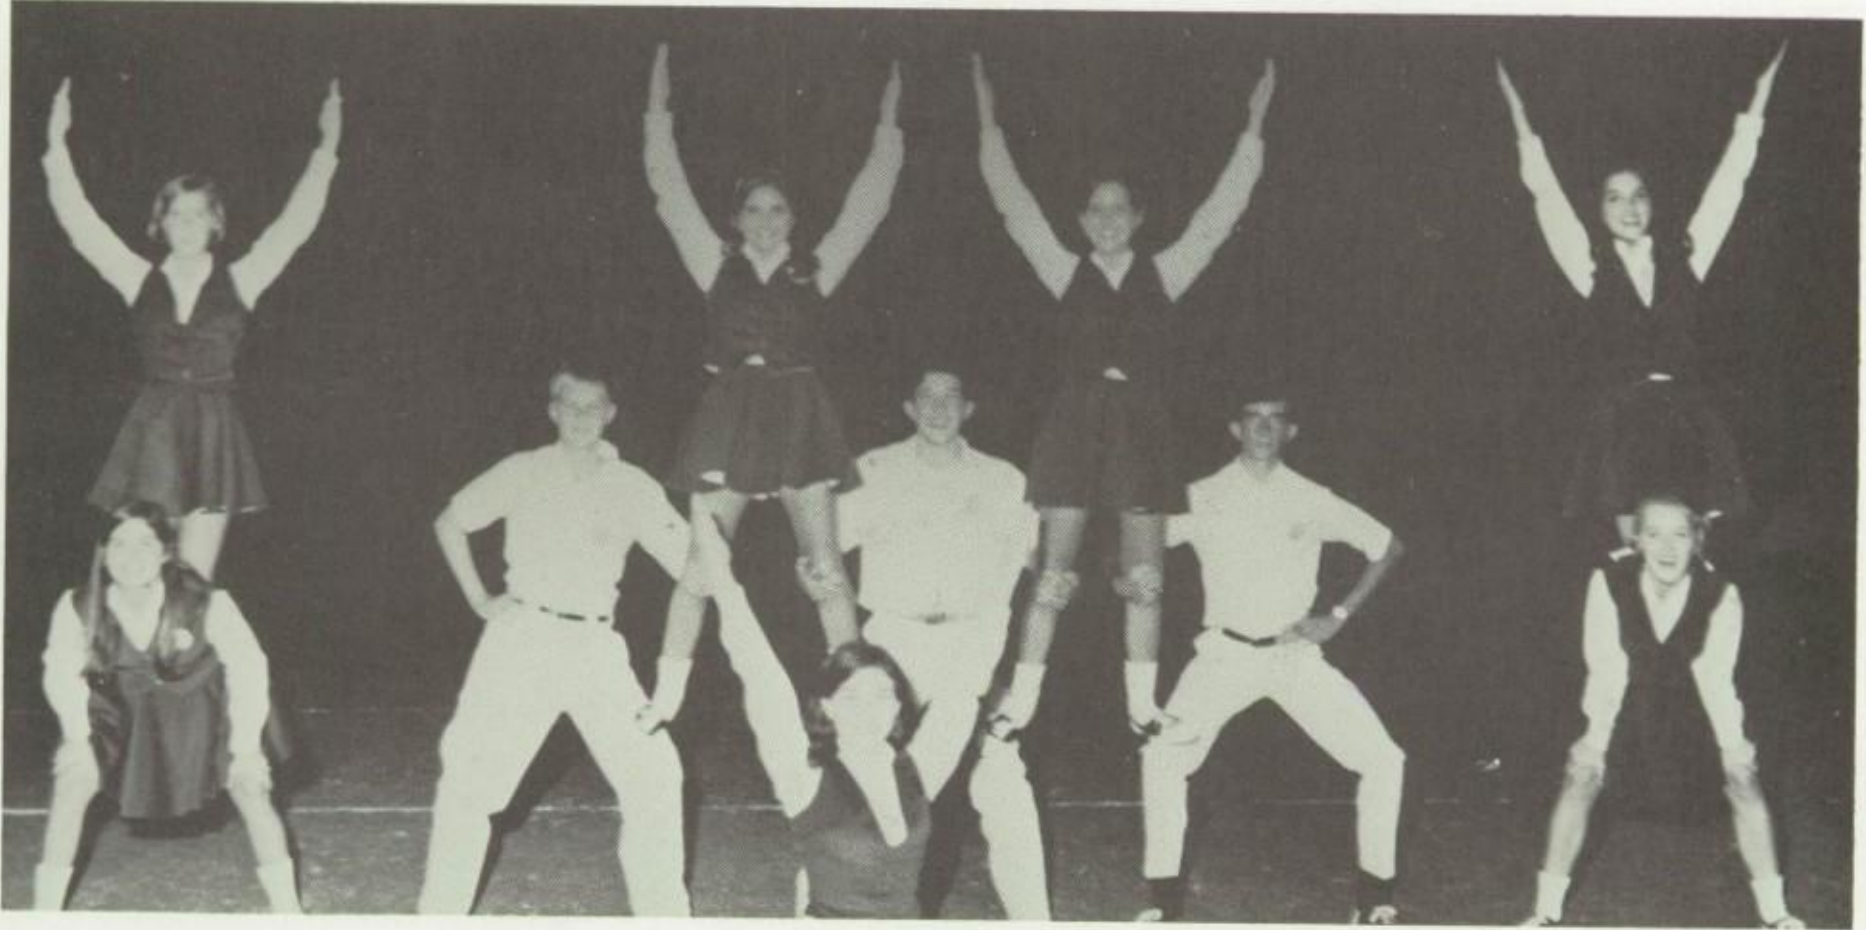

John Worsham works with the sound behind stage.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders are the single most spirit inducing organization at U.M.S. They perform at football and basketball games in order to arouse the crowd into a spirited frenzy. Their performances are based upon long hours of practice which certainly pays off at the games.

The varsity cheerleaders are: Pier Peterson, Jean Outlaw, Blake Moore, Cathy Hyman, Jeanne Atkinson, Mike McCrory

(head cheerleader), Barbara Brothers, John Walker, Karen Outlaw, Cindy Lyle.

The Junior High cheerleaders are: Karen Dorland, Anne Getchell, Gina Barney (head cheerleader), Erla Gewin, Debbie Wiley, Ashley Lang, Kathy Blacksher, Cindy Pace.

Pep Club

Nineteen hundred and seventy was the first year of existence of the U. M. S. Pep Club. As the newest organization to be created on campus, it in many ways brought to the school a new atmosphere marked by a refreshing enthusiasm for each and every school endeavor. President, Robbie Turner, led endless projects to firmly establish the permanence of the Pep Club as an active part of school life. The artistic ability of Sandy McMurphy also became public as school walls were continually adorned with banners and posters. The delight expressed by the administration and student body over the success of this new group assures us that Cadet athletic teams will always be blessed with the avid support of the Pep Club.

The members of the Pep Club are: B. Moore, D. Quina, F. Turner, J. Walker, W. Coats, T. Jett, J. Fuchs, A. Davis B. McKinney, A. Howard, F. McConnell. Second row: J. Turner, M. Tull, F. Ellis, W. Sewell, J. Walker, H. Cole, J. Seignious, E. King, J. Ison, F. Rayford, R. Kurtts, W. Patrick.

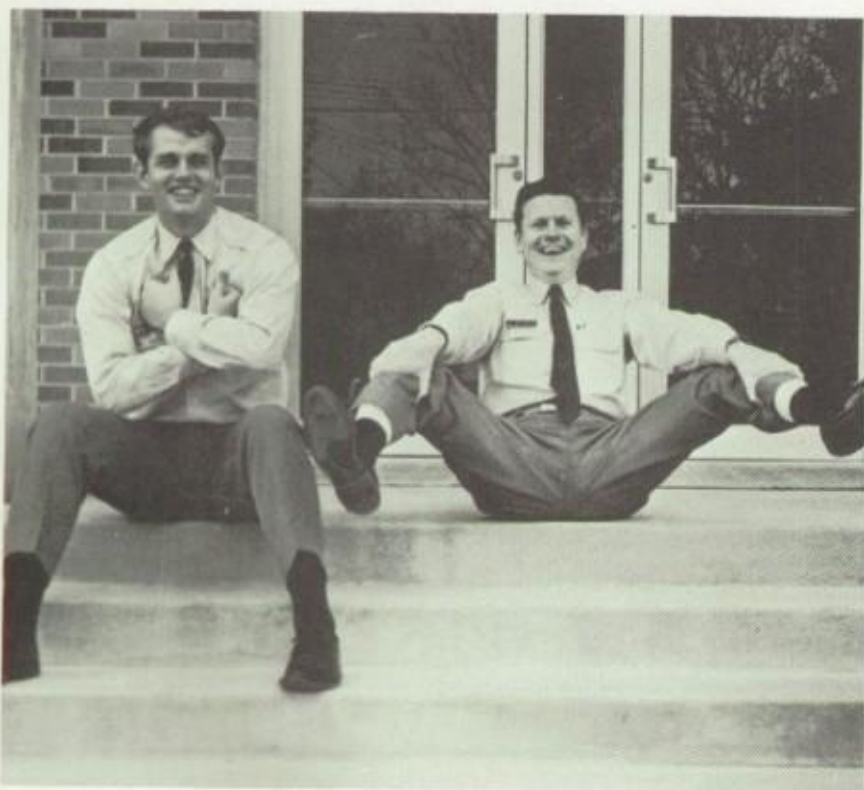

Third row: J. Eskridge, K. Deihl, F. McPhillips, S. Lapeyrouse, D. McKay, J. May, G. Barrett, G. Whiting, J. Murray, A. Platt, G. Radcliff. Fourth row: D. George, T. Middleton, J. Terry, P. Hume, D. Moore, T. Taul, S. Allgood, G. Austin, L. Givens.

Organization Faculty Advisors are: Capt. Morrell, Battalion Review; Maj. Price, JETS Club; Capt. Treutel, Cadet; Maj. Moore, Key Club; Capt. Woodruff, Theatre Guild. Second row: Capt. Breaux, Student Council; Maj. Hinson, National Honor Society; Maj. Nolan, Honor Council; Col. Whistler, Hop Committee; Col. Hanks, Honor Council; Capt. Redd, Debate Team.

Faculty Advisors

That deserves a bop.

Each organization at U. M. S. has working with it a member of the faculty who aids the organization in any way that he or she can. Without exception, the advisors have shown their willingness to give advice when the various organizations are in need of experienced help. Their efforts are certainly appreciated.

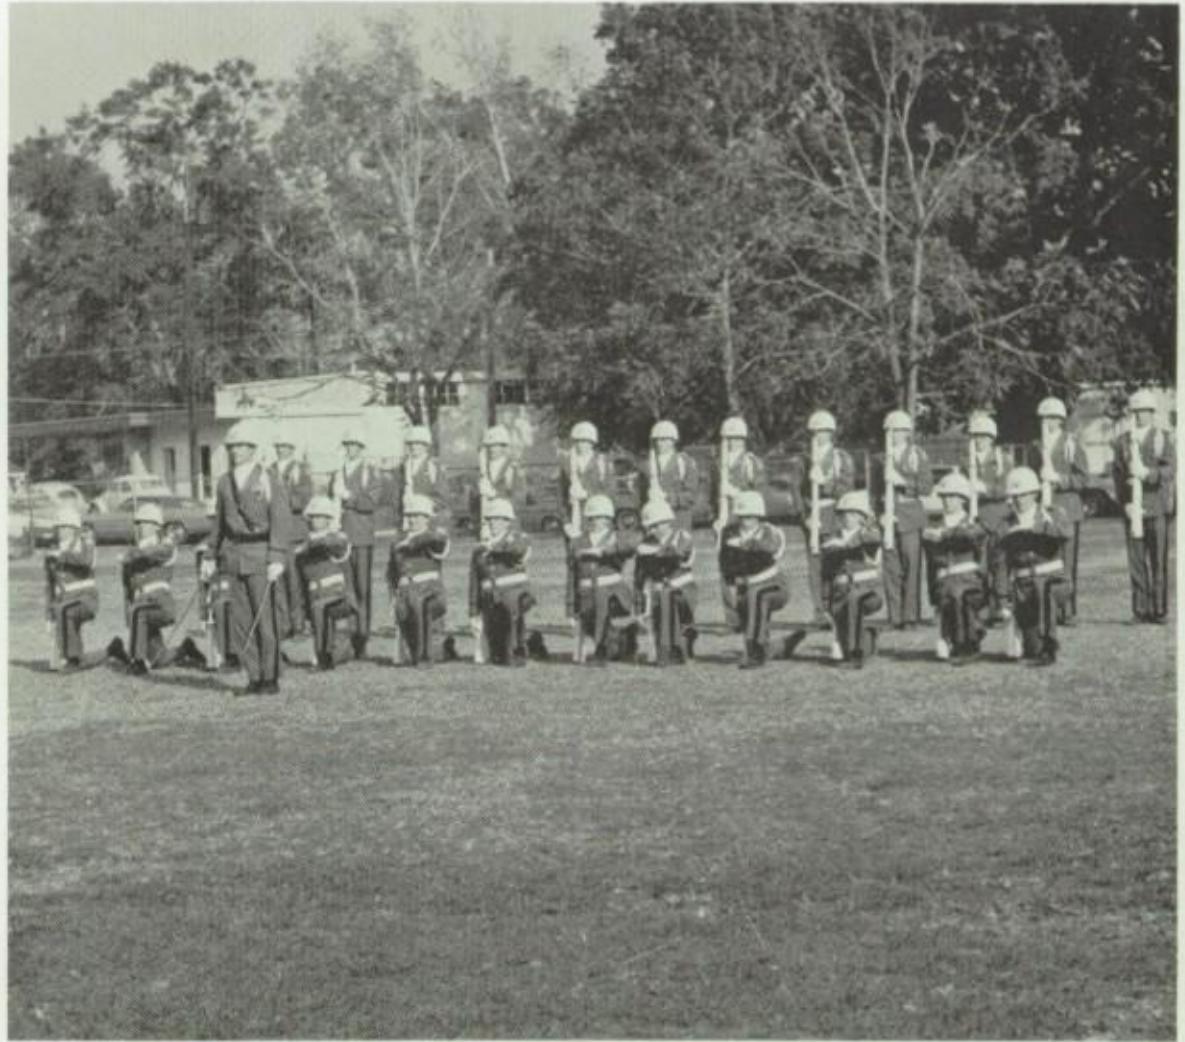

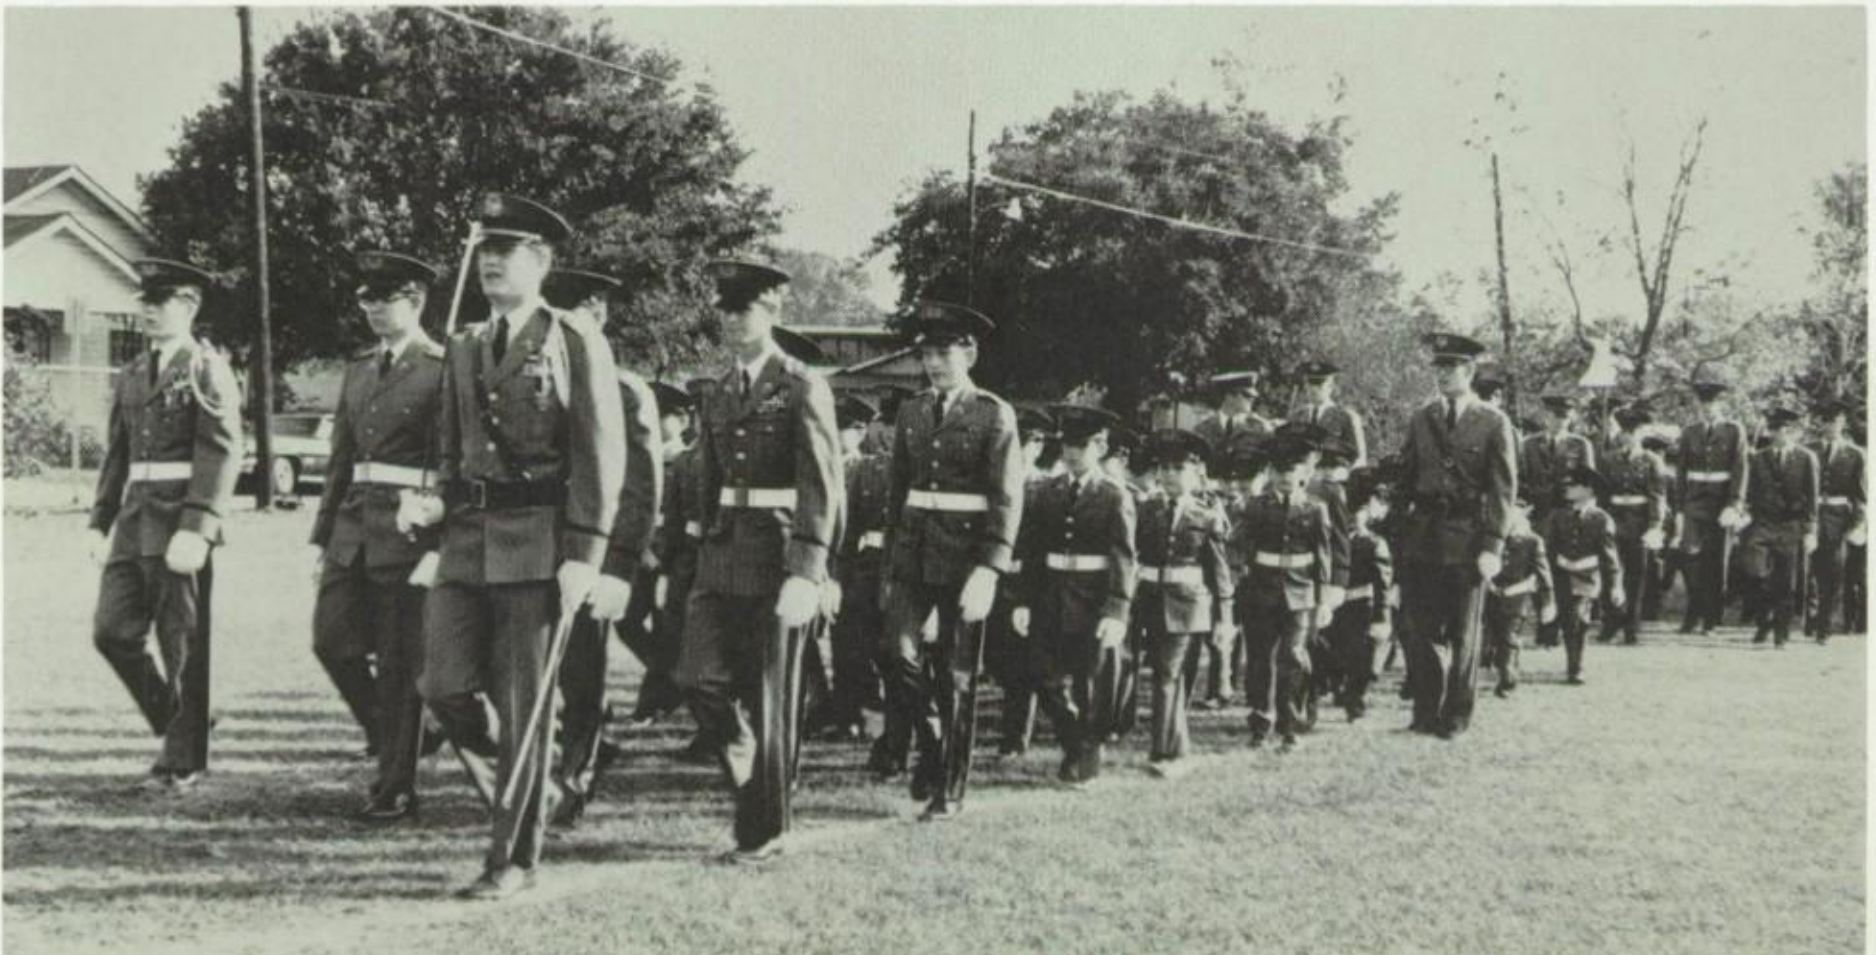

ACTIVITIES

Homecoming 1969

The U.M.S. Homecoming ceremonies were held Friday, November 7, 1969. The presentation of the Homecoming Queen, Pier Peterson, started the activities. Following the presentation of company sponsors, the officers and staff of the Battalion were presented. After a formal dress parade, the guests moved into the auditorium-chapel for another fine choral program led by Captain Ted Beverly. This was followed by a reception around the swimming pool. The victorious McGill game concluded a memorable U.M.S. Homecoming.

High School Bowl

In the first high school bowl game with Vigor, Jerry Porter, Kim Weber, John Worsham, and John Damrich went into battle nervously. Vigor had previously won two games and was going for their third and final win. At the end of the first half things looked bad with Vigor leading 80-65. Yet, our forces pulled together to give us a 145-100 victory.

In the second game of the season our bowl team was quite a bit more confident in themselves while Alba had the disadvantage of being the inexperienced team. Yet, at the end of the first half U.M.S. was leading by only ten points with a score of 65-55. But, things picked up in the second half, and our team defeated Alba with a score of 135-55.

In their final game U.M.S. remembered how they had spoiled Vigor in their championship game. They knew that they must play a solid game to defeat Trinity Gardens and retire as undefeated champions. Our confidence was quickly broken with Trinity jumping ahead to a 35-0 lead. However, these were their only points of the half as U.M.S. scored 95 points. The second half proved fruitful as our team tallied their score up to a 235 to 45 win.

Bonfire

The Pep Club organized and sponsored the bonfire before the Homecoming game against McGill. This year's bonfire was a success and was attended by the cheerleaders, segments of the band, the football team, and some loyal U.M.S. students. The spirit of the bonfire was an enthusiastic prelude to the victorious football game.

Cheerleaders Ellen Lutz and Cindy Lyle help lead cheers at the bonfire.

The highlight of the bonfire was the burning of the McGill football player in effigy.

N.H.S. Induction

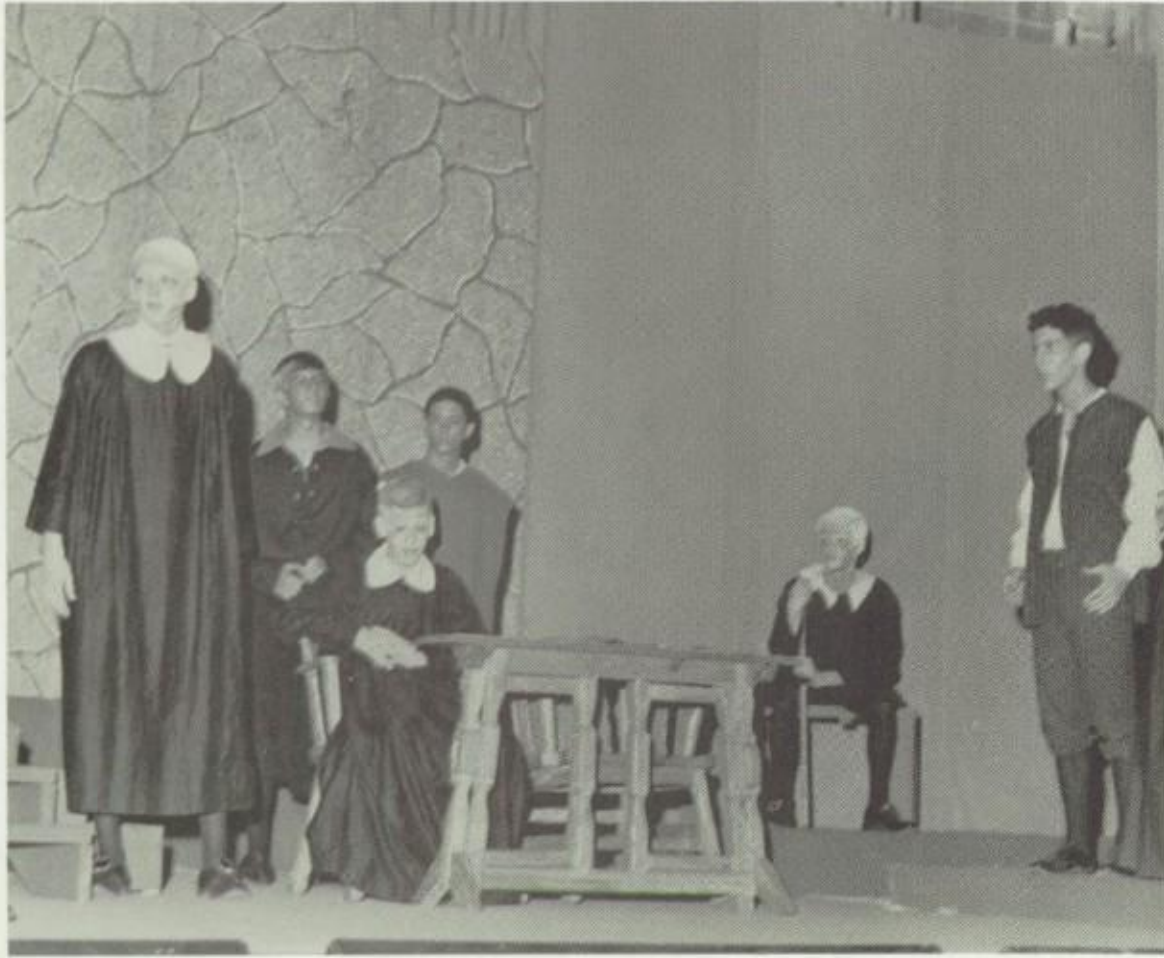

Tony Brown receives his certificate from Jerry Porter.

On Wednesday, October 15, certain juniors and seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in recognition of the character, scholarship, leadership, and service that they have made apparent through their words and deeds. President Jerry Porter announced the names of the inductees and then outlined the basic principles of the Society. Afterwards, a short reception was held for the parents of the inductees, along with both new and old members.

A reception followed the presentation.

Arthur Miller's "The Crucible"

The courtroom scene.

The U.M.S. Theater Guild presented Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" on Dec. 1-2, in the U.M.S. auditorium. "The Crucible" was the Theater Guild's first attempt at true drama. The cast included Roy Hoffman, Les Barnett, Julie Hardy, Rod Platt, Robin Murray, Susan Koffer, Sue Green, and Robin Lewis. Special credit should also be extended to the technical assistance given by Wynn Ryan, Jimmy May, and Victor Gulas for a fine performance.

Senior-Faculty Basketball Game

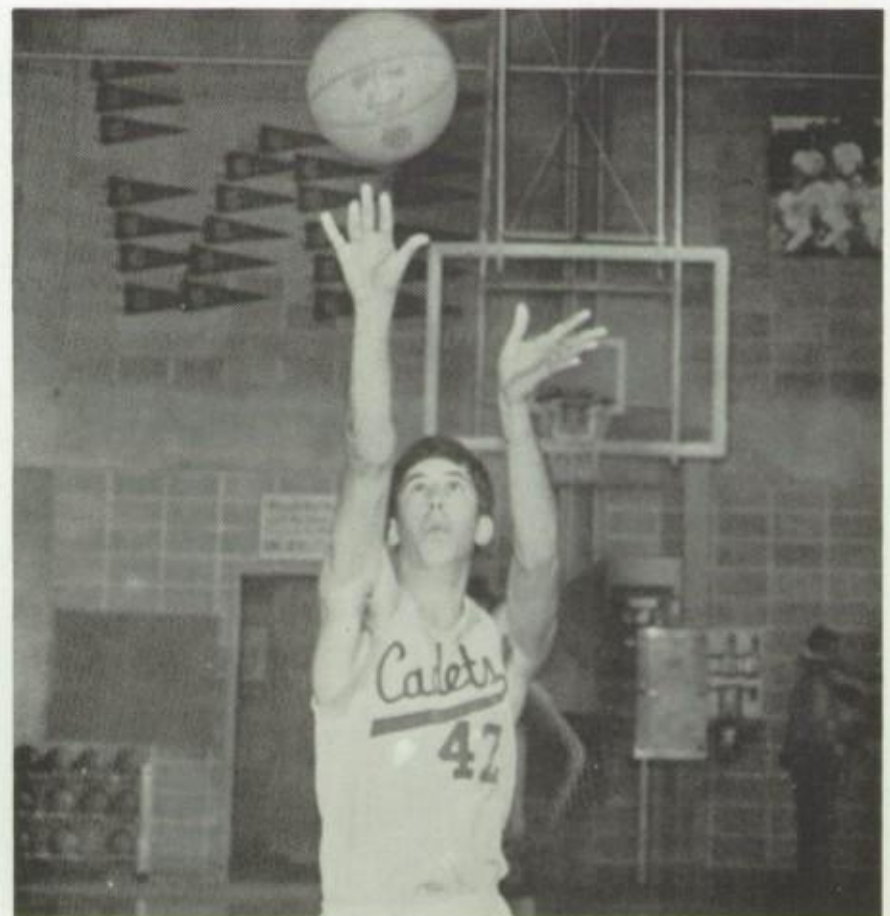

On December 18, an enthusiastic audience saw Captains LeGros, Woodruff, Redd, Treutel, and Dinkins, and Major Hinson, and Colonel Hanks throw away balls, miss backboards, slow break, and tire quickly. It was not until the coaches, who, this year were restricted to the second and fourth quarters, that the faculty led. Although the seniors lost, they were glad to have participated, because it meant more money for the annual Commencement Hop.

Christmas Program

The band presents "Sounds of Joy at Christmas."

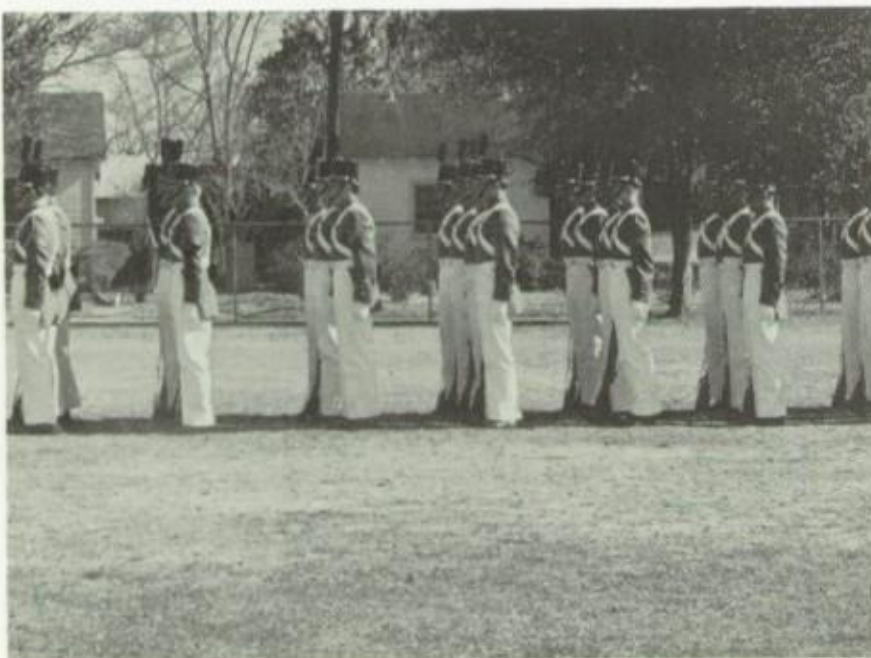

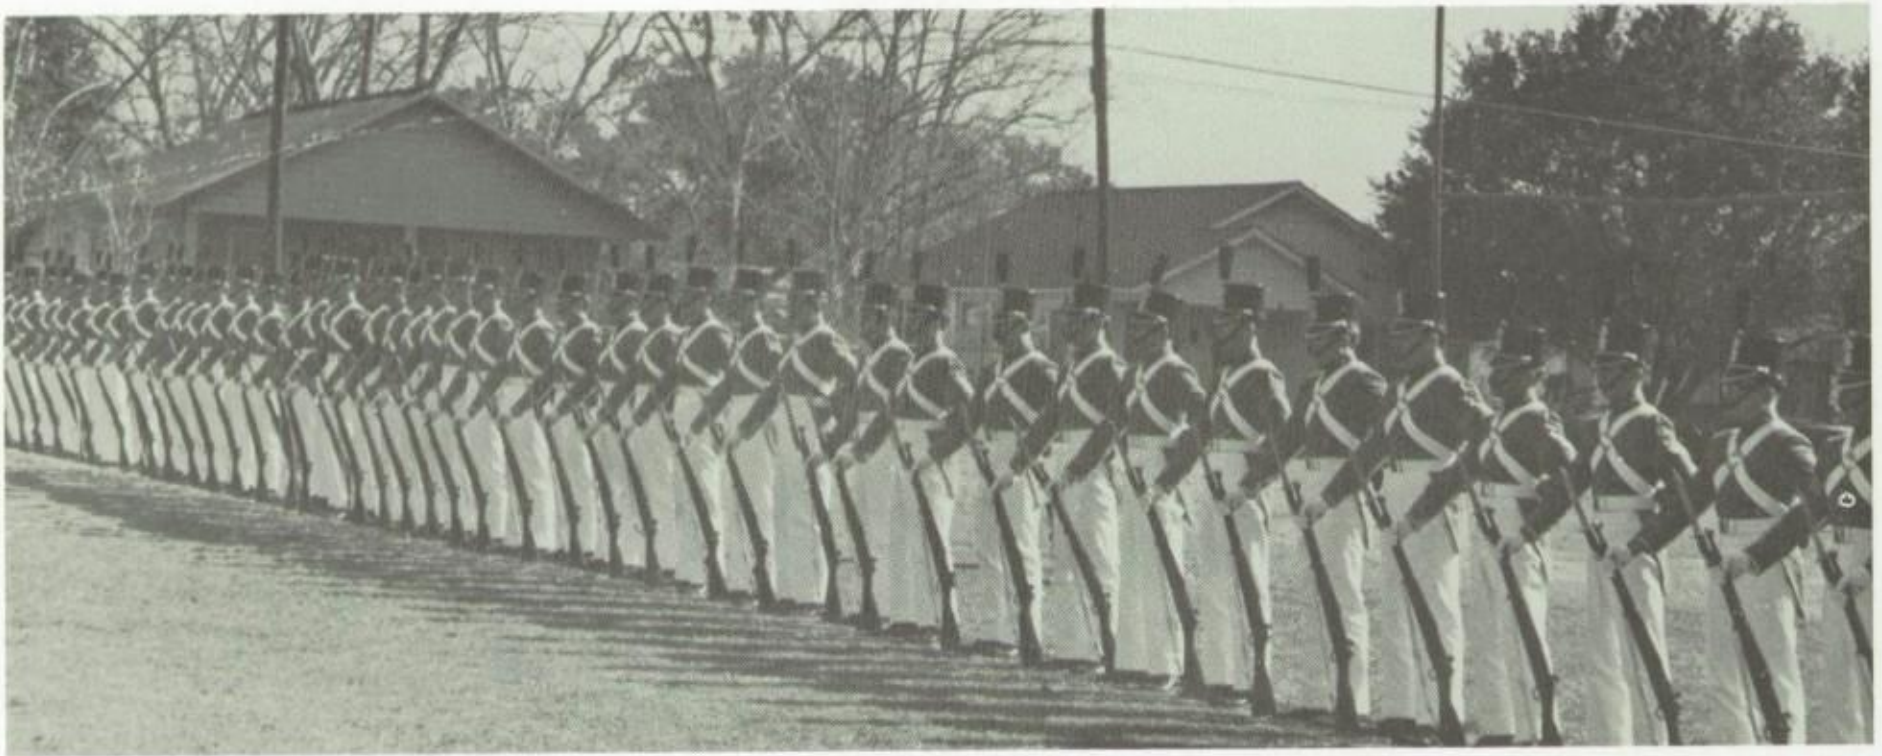

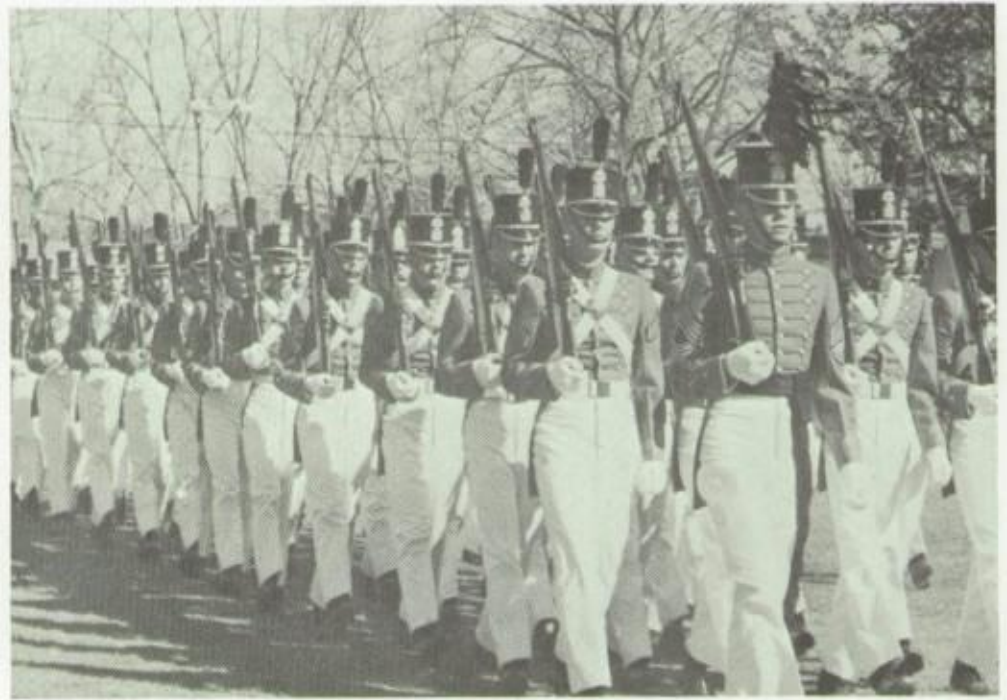

The Cadet Chorus joined the band on Monday night, December 15, for the annual Christmas program. The band's portion began with "Sounds of Joy at Christmas." The chorus presented its part of the show in two portions. The first, performed by the Singing Cadets, was entitled, "We Praise His Name through Song." The Cadet Chorus followed and ended the program with "'Tis the Birthday of a King." This evening of entertainment was enjoyed by all.

Captain Beverly leads the Cadet Chorus.

Summerall Guard

On January 9, U.M.S. was proud to receive the Citadel's Summerall Guard. The Summerall Guard performed a series of marching movements under silent command on the U.M.S. football field before the entire student body in preparation for their Senior Bowl performance on the next day. The Cadets then moved into the auditorium for the second part of the program, which was a film narrated by a Citadel student. This film gave us a look into life at the Citadel, which is a highly respected military college located in Charleston, South Carolina.

The Senior Class Play

Diana Rouse and the White Supremists

The Senior Class Play was written, produced and played by the senior class, assisted by Capt. Redd. This year's play included a revised version of television's popular "Laugh-In" and "Newlywed Game", Diana Rouse and the White Supremists, and a look at the bright side of some of our more interesting teachers.

"Oh darling please don't die!"

Father-Son Banquet

The sixth annual Father-Son Banquet featured Josh Powell as the speaker. A member of the faculty of Georgia Tech, Mr. Powell delivered a message with such value that it blended perfectly with the success of the balance of the evening. The said purpose of the Father-Son Banquet, "To strengthen the ties which bind father to son and each other to school," was unquestionably achieved. Therefore, the Student Council should be congratulated for last year's accomplishment and, in the same sense, supported in its efforts towards the Father-Son Banquet of the coming year.

"Has Beens" and The Young Americans

The Young Americans sing a medley of popular songs.

The "Has Beens" sing to Johnny Murray.

As in the past few years, U.M.S. was fortunate to have performances by two popular groups. The first was the "Has Beens," a group of past Junior Misses who return to Mobile in the years following their participation in the Junior Miss Pageant. The second group, The Young Americans, traveled from California to sing in the televised portion of the Junior Miss Pageant. Both groups were excellent and enjoyed greatly by the students.

Junior-Senior Party

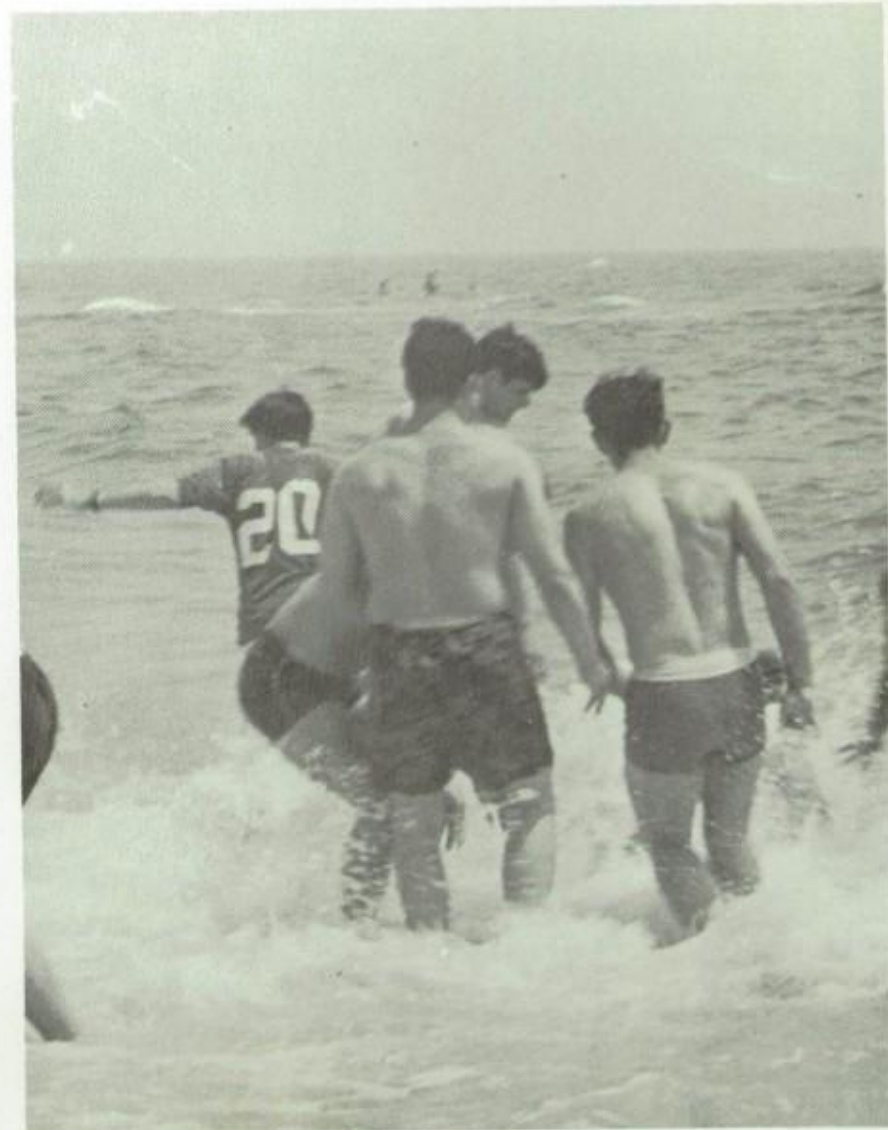

Every year the juniors and seniors board buses to spend the entire day on the beach. Last year they spent their vacation at the house of Forress Rayford on Gulf Shores. The weather was perfect, and many students traveled home with rosy cheeks and necks. Since much of the time was spent in the water, appetites were quickly worked up. After a full day of sun and games, the drenched Major Filippini organized a cleanup before heading back to school.

For the first time in years the major was dunked.

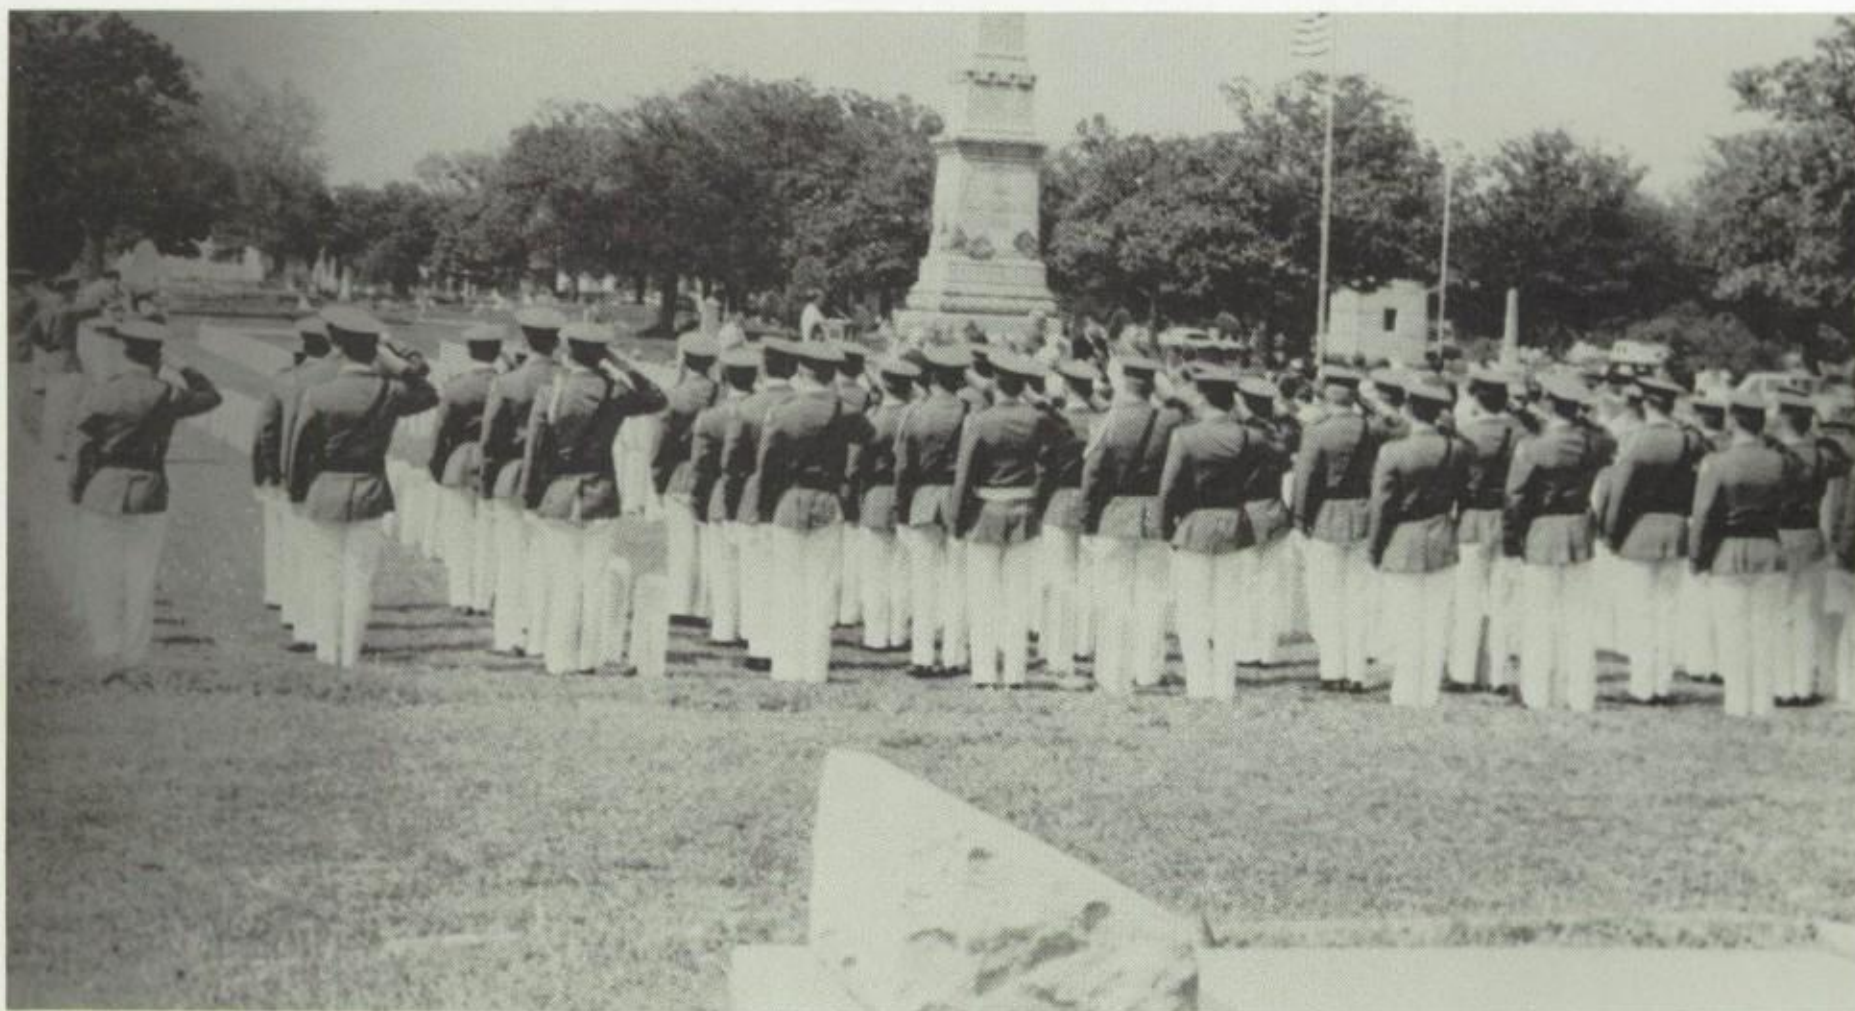

Various sports were played in the sand.

Confederate Memorial Day

Confederate Memorial Day ceremonies are an annual event held each spring in Mobile. As in past years, the U.M.S. senior class, Band, and Colors paid respect to those who served in the Confederate States Army by forming the honor guard. The ceremonies were held in the Magnolia Cemetery.

One day each year is set aside for the underclassmen to get back at the seniors. On this day the underclassmen pay to run the seniors through various obstacles. Some of these include dousing with ice water, sitting on ice, the mud push, and an all out war with water balloons concludes the day's fun.

Field Day is a popular holiday held each spring at U.M.S. during which cadets compete in track, field, and other athletic activities. During the day, the members of the companies of the Senior Battalion compete to see who can amass the highest number of points. "C" Company took the honors this year in the 1969 activities.

Commencement Drill

Due to rain the Seventy-Sixth Annual Commencement Drill was not held. As in the past, a preliminary drill was held during school. Although this competition was not as formal as the annual drill, it was judged just as strictly. The winning companies in the competition were "B", commanded by Cadet Captain Robert Bush Hanks, and "D", commanded by Cadet Captain Mark Ben Reed. The winning company in the Primary Battalion was "G", commanded by Thomas Oliver Carpenter. Cadet First Lieutenant Bruce Lubel, commanding the first platoon of "A" Company, and Cadet Second Lieutenant Paul Weaver, commanding the second platoon of "F" Company, were the winners of the platoon competition. Robert Turner of "A" Company and Frank Harris of "E" Company were the winners of the squad competition.

Commencement Hop

A saber salute is given to Scooter Heblon.

The annual Commencement Hop, the social climax of the year, was again held at the Mobile Country Club. Last year it featured music by "Arthur Conley and His Band." As is traditional, the first dance was reserved for the seniors and their mothers.

Baccalaureate

The 1969 Baccalaureate Services were again held in the D. R. Dunlap Chapel-Auditorium. The speaker for the services was Dr. Joel McDavid of the Dauphin Way United Methodist Church. This sermon is intended to spiritually prepare the graduating Seniors for their future life.

Senior Battalion Program

Those associated with this year's Senior Battalion can be especially proud of the fruits of their labors. Even though the normal difficulties of "starting from scratch" were increased by an unusually large group of new cadets, the Battalion, composed of grades seven through twelve, rapidly developed the rigid military standards demanded of it.

The guidance of Major Hinson and Captain LeGros was essential to the celebrated success of the 1969-70 Senior Battalion Program. Through their advice, the senior officers were able to stage one of the most impressive Homecoming performances in years.

The vast improvement in the Crack Platoon must, however, rank as the most noticeable change in this year's military scene with the addition of several difficult commands to its repertoire. Cadet Robert Turner's drill team took on a finesse and sharpness never before equaled at U.M.S. The Band Company also continued to increase in quality as the younger members gained experience and the older members added leadership.

Primary Battalion Program

The annual duty of the officers in the Primary Battalion is to instruct the members of grades one through six in the fundamentals of close-order drill. That duty, however, was carried out this year with a new and different flourish. Through the leadership of Major Ray Stacy, who was just transferred to the advisory staff, the chain of command abandoned the traditional methods of procedure and adapted the military handbook as a basis for operations. For the first time, cadets were addressed according to rank and inspections were carried out in a fashion identical to that of the armed forces.

It is generally agreed that, with such changes, the Primary Battalion Program will become increasingly efficient providing a firmer foundation for the military system at U.M.S.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

The U.M.S football squad of 1969 marked the first of several teams which will dedicate their efforts to rebuilding the U.M.S. football program after the rugged 1-9 season of 1968. On several occasions a very bright future was indicated as the Cadets attained sound victories against serious opposition in Mary Montgomery, B.C. Rain and McGill, the Homecoming foe. Injuries again assumed the pose of a relentless antagonist, leaving five starting players unable to play. Head Coach Joe Dean, with assistants Chuck Norman and Don Kelly, did lead the team to overcome these and other handicaps to post three wins in a schedule containing ten larger schools. If the present trend continues U.M.S. will continue to field increasingly impressive grid teams.

First row: S. Owens, N. Patrick, J. Coats, C. Johnson, C. Walton, S. Howard, A. Davis, J. Woulard, W. Wells, P. Cornelius, J. Ison, B. McKinney, S. Leak, J. Friedman. Second row: W. Sewell, S. Ellisor, S. Allgood, B. McConnell, K. Arendall, P. Brock, G. Lammons, L. Elliott, D. Turner, D. Newell, J. Croom, J. Pate, B. Kurtts, D. Cahill. Third row: R. Dunn, F. Benedict, J. Worsham, G. Radcliff, N. Johnston, F. Rayford, S. Stimpson, M. Mosteller, T. Galanos, B. Holt, G. Barrett, C. Brown, J. Danner, N. Nicolson.

Walton carries for a gain through the Viking defense.

U.M.S. Dumps Favored Mary Montgomery.

The '69 U.M.S. football season began on the upbeat when the Cadets defeated the Mary Montgomery Vikings, 14-6. Neil Patrick tossed two touchdown passes, one to Sandy Howard and the other to Sandy Stimpson, to account for the U.M.S. scores. This passing was balanced by the running attack of Benja McKinney and Peanuts Walton, which was instrumental in the long scoring drives executed by the Soldiers. Not to be forgotten was the stubborn defense, anchored by linemen Matt Mosteller and Joe Croom, which held the Semmes team to but one touchdown. This victory was extremely important, for it eased the pain of last year's disappointing season and gave hope for the one just beginning.

Tigers Trip Cadets

The Bulldogs suffered their first defeat when they collided with the Bay Minette Tigers. Our opponents gained the advantage on a scoring pass play and the successful conversion. However, U.M.S. retaliated when Matt Mostellar took a fumble in for a score. The PAT was unsuccessful. In the second half Bay Minette again scored on a pass, along with the conversion. The Cadets almost recovered when Neil Patrick hit Sandy Stimpson deep for the tally. Attempting the two-point conversion, U.M.S. was thwarted, and the score remained 14-12.

John Shaw Overcomes U.M.S.

U.M.S. sustained its second defeat of the season at the hands of the Shaw Rebels. Both teams moved the ball well throughout the game, yet there was no scoring until the fourth quarter. The Rebels tallied on an 18 yard pass, which conversion was unsuccessful. They then came back with another TD on an interception, making the score 12-0. Attempting to make up the deficit, the Cadets fashioned a drive resulting in a touchdown pass from Patrick to Scott Logan, but the conversion failed. The Bulldogs then pulled off a successful onside kick, but time ran out with 12-6 on the scoreboard.

Cats Claw Cadets

U.M.S. was decisively beaten by the Murphy Panthers, their arch-rivals, to absorb the team's third loss of the season, 24-0. There was little action until the second quarter, where the Panthers broke loose to an 18-0 lead. During the second half the Soldiers stiffened the defense and held Murphy to one touchdown, mainly due to the efforts of Robert Dunn, Forress Rayford, and Neil Johnston. U.M.S. mustered a drive to the Murphy seven yard line in the final quarter, but the game ended before the team could put any points on the board.

Warriors Tame Soldiers

The Bulldogs won the Davidson game in every category except the score in losing to the Warriors to the tune of 27-13. Neil Patrick passed for over 200 yards and there was strong rushing by Sandy Howard, Benja McKinney, and Peanuts Walton, yet this could not offset the glaring errors of the defensive secondary. Key interceptions, including one for a touchdown, and a punt return for another TD gave the Warriors the win, but on a number of occasions the Soldiers almost broke open the score. Forress Rayford caught one scoring pass, and Sandy Stimpson was also a top receiver.

Flashy Soldiers Crush B.C. Rain

The U.M.S. victory over the B.C. Rain Raiders proved to be a fan's delight. The Cadets could do no wrong as Neil Patrick, who passed for 227 yards, directed the team to its initial score on a pass to Forress Rayford. The second quarter saw little action, but on the third play of the third quarter, Patrick hit Greer Radcliff on a 73 yard bomb to make the tally 13-0. Then the Raider offense pulled together to fashion a 77 yard drive to get their only TD. U.M.S. drove 71 yards for the final score, made possible by a McKinney interception, and the game ended 19-7.

Co-Captain Sandy Stimpson beats Aggies for a completion.

Aggies Outscore Cadets

Rarely has there been a game as diversified as when U.M.S. met the Sylacauga Aggies, losing 40-27. As the first half was wildly offensive, the second one was a tough, bruising defensive struggle. Cadet scoring in the first half consisted of three TD passes, two to Sandy Howard and the other to Carter Johnston on a tackle eligible play. However, the Aggies had the most powerful running attack seen by the Soldiers during the year, along with a surprisingly effective aerial offense, and they scored five times in the first half to assume the lead, 33-21. Each team scored once apiece in the final half, with the Cadets getting the TD on a pass to Sandy Stimpson, and the tally ended 40-27 in favor of Sylacauga.

Walton strikes first as defense stops Foley run.

Cadets Fall to Foley Lions

The Bulldogs lost to the Foley Lions in trying to break a twelve year jinx against them. The Lions lead only 7-0 at the half, but they unleashed on U.M.S. in the second one. They scored twice in the third quarter and once in the final quarter to finish off the Cadets, 26-0. In spite of the stubborn Foley defense, Benja McKinney came through with powerful running, and John Coats did a creditable job in filling in at quarterback.

The victory message becomes public after Cadets like Sandy Howard help tame Jackets.

Jackets Become Homecoming Victims.

U.M.S., in one of the most exciting Homecoming games of the school's history, defeated the McGill Yellow Jackets, 18-13. By game time the team was at an emotional zenith and this became evident on the field. All through the first half the Cadet offense moved at will in long, time consuming drives, while stymying the bewildered Jackets. Neil Patrick scored first on a keeper, and Glen Barrett crashed in for the other TD, but both conversions failed. In the beginning of the fourth quarter, however, U.M.S. suffered a brief lapse in their poise, and McGill scored twice to take the lead, 13-12. Greer Radcliff recovered one of their fumbles, and the Soldiers traveled seventy yards to the Jacket four with a key long pass to Sandy Stimpson. There the drive halted, and on fourth and four, Patrick rolled out and with a key block from Matt Mosteller found Forress Rayford in the end zone to clinch the game with 1:18 remaining on the clock.

Bears Trample Cadets

U.M.S. lost its final game of the 1969 season to the state-ranked Robertsdale Bears, 36-14. The Bears jumped to a 14-0 half-time lead, but the Neil Patrick aerial attack went to work in the third quarter, and he hit his receivers to march seventy-five yards for the score, capped by a two-point conversion toss to Forress Rayford. The Bears scored once more in the quarter followed by a similar accomplishment on the part of the Cadets, making the score 20-14. The Bears turned it on in the fourth quarter by scoring two touchdowns and completing an equal number of two-point conversions. This sixteen point surge gave them the game with the score ending 36-14.

A definite change was noticeable in this year's Junior Varsity football squad. In response to the efforts of new coaches Ed Holmes and Bud Urquhart, the players showed a poise and will to win not often found. As a result, four strong opponents found themselves unable to crush the Cadets as they had done in the past. Only two top area groups, Mae Eanes and K. J. Clark, defeated U.M.S. and were forced to come from behind in each case. Numerous players stood out through the course of the season. Among these David Pierce, Howard Fuqua, Bobby Weinacker, Corky Eden, Doug Davis, and Gary Grady appeared most frequently. The entire group is to be congratulated for representing U.M.S. so well.

Lee Roe, Nick Holmes, Ed Fuchs, Carl Root, and Kerry Croom won a total of 12 individual trophies this year as the Cross Country team dominated its opponents. As the special Cross Country mentor U.M.S. alumnus Phil Davis saw his team capture the Mobile City Championship. Three other team victories, such as the Davidson Invitational, add to the overall story of success. Currently ranked second in the state, the U.M.S. Cross Country team still seems likely to improve, judging from the Junior Varsity's winning of the Mobile City meet. The Cross Country program at U.M.S. now seems to have set high standards for itself, and from all indications these standards will continue to prevail.

Varsity Basketball

The sporadic successes enjoyed by this year's cagers came as something of a let-down to the highly optimistic U.M.S. supporters. Four experienced seniors were among the ingredients which were expected to go into a championship year, yet Coach Wes Bizilia found these ingredients simply impossible to blend. Consequently, victories were slightly less common than defeats. There were, nevertheless, momentous triumphs such as the 66-65 upset in the Murphy gym. Other bright spots appeared as several juniors proved themselves to be fierce competitors. This fact, along with the account of the Junior Varsity, gives us reason enough to expect outstanding basketball seasons in the future.

Junior Varsity Basketball

First row: M. Pipas, R. Weinacker, G. Lum, P. Coats, S. Ellisor. Second row: G. Bobelis, O. Delchamps, E. Etheredge, D. Newell, P. Brock.

The widespread attention directed toward this year's J.V. basketball team was certainly not unwarranted. With the addition of Ed Holmes as coach, there came a new type of basketball which earned the team the nickname, "The Cardiac Kids." Led by the rebounding of George Bobelis and the scoring of Gary Lum, this quintet bounced back from a 20 game losing streak to win some eighty percent of their games, defeating heavily favored rivals such as Murphy, Davidson, and B.C. Rain. As a result the team of the 1969 basketball season occupied a top berth in city rankings and is recorded as one of the strongest such teams in U.M.S. history.

Track

The 1969 Track Team experienced a truly outstanding year, continuing the trend of successes which has prevailed during recent years. Led by seniors Bob Montiel and Allen Cox, the Cadets swept all local honors, winning their fourth straight City, County, and District championships and once again emerged as the perennial track power of our area. It was very fitting indeed that Montiel and Cox ended the fourth year of track as members of the state runner-up team and also individual state champions. A bright future for 1970 appeared as the team ended 1969 with convincing laurels in the Mobile Indoor Meet. Paced by the great performances of Nick Holmes, Mark Wiley, Sandy Stimpson, Jay Ison, Lee Roe, Carl Root, Benja McKinney, and Frank Ellis, the Cadets swept to their 3rd straight Indoor Crown. With the leadership of these fine boys, it looks like Track 1970 could mean another banner year.

Varsity Baseball

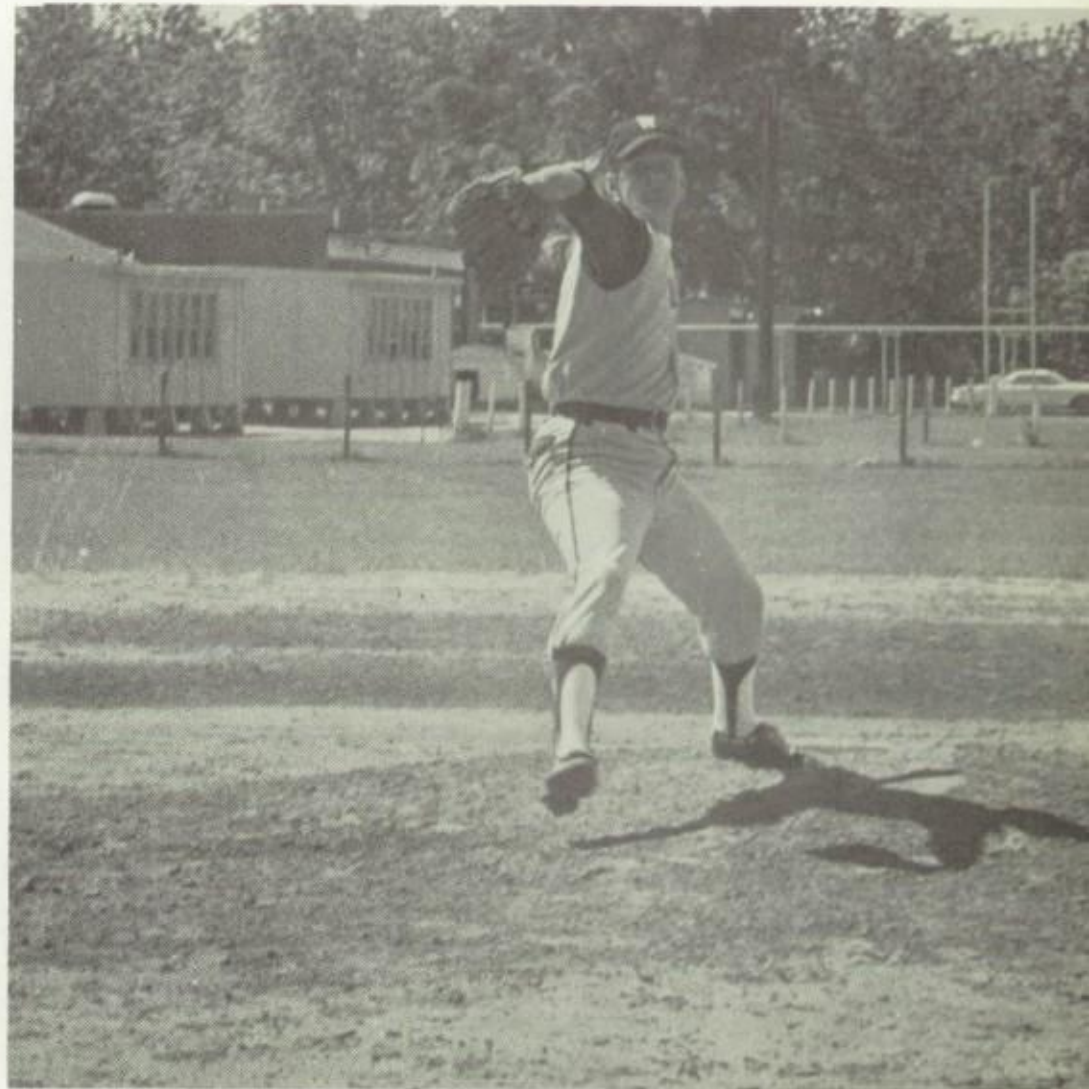

The 1970 Varsity Baseball season appears to be very bright after last year's disappointing series of outings. Plagued by a shortage of pitchers during the previous season, the Cadets will be able to field a strong staff. Sid Allgood, Neil Patrick, and Wes Sewell saw wide mound experience last year, while Bryan Smith and Mike Elliott will be seeing action as relievers. Also, the infield will be stronger, especially at third base with the acquisition of David Johnston. Another important point is the addition of Glen Barrett, who will split catching duties with Patrick and add a powerful bat to the offense. The outfield lacks depth, but barring injuries, it has sufficient talent to plug up any gaps.

First row: R. Miller, W. Sewell, A. Harris, B. Smith, J. Moore, A. Galanos, G. Wilkins, J. Coats, M. Elliott, S. Leak, J. Norton. Second row: C. Johnston, M. Black, A. Davis, M. Reed, P. Brown, N. Patrick, B. McConnell, H. Fuqua, R. Anderson, P. Weaver, S. Allgood, M. McPhillips, M. Harris.

The Donaghey Trophy.

In the area of tennis, the account of the U.M.S. group is nothing less than a list of outstanding successes. Continually adding to a streak of some fifty straight victorious matches, they have captured the Donaghey Trophy from area teams. In addition, the U.M.S. squad not only was ranked second in the state of Alabama, but finished fourth in the Southeastern Regionals at Chattanooga, Tennessee. Led by experienced netters Buck Taylor, Robert Rouse, Maurice Crowe and Jim Gerhardt, the 1970 team promises to make whatever improvements are possible. Even the state championship now seems clearly within reach.

Golf

Faced with the duty of maintaining the pace set by last year's golfers, the U.M.S. team of 1970 clearly must rebuild. Andy Smith, the city champion, finished third in the state while leading the squad to the Mobile district championship. He and Bob Hanks, two key linksters, leave gaping vacancies in the golf program since their graduation. Currently in position to fill one of these spots is Tom Twitty who is described as a "solid" competitor. Consistent performances will also be sought from John Damrich, Blake Moore, Mike Gibbons, Bill Pettroutson, and Petey Coats. If these boys are able to come through, U.M.S. may once again be able to boast of a truly first-rate golf team.

Swimming

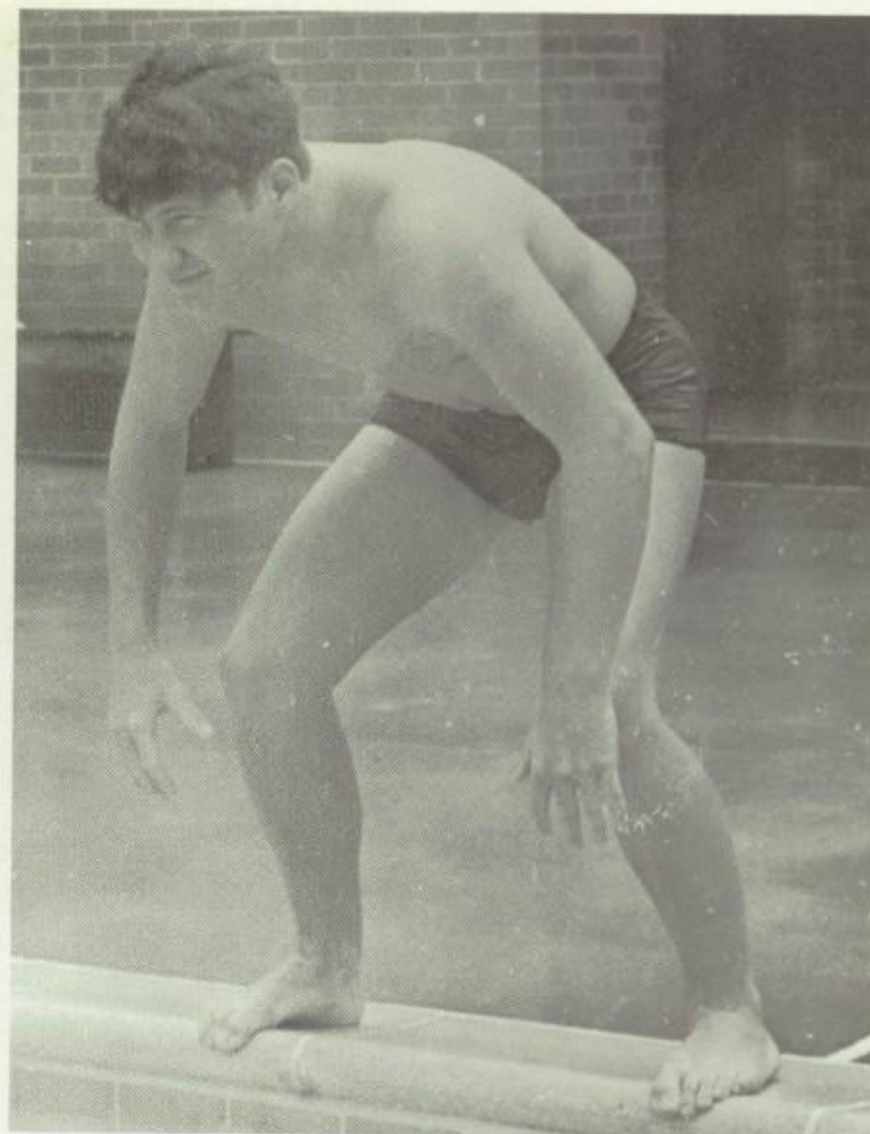

Members of the 1969 swim team are: Murray, R., Lubel, B., Murray, J., Mosher, S., Vogelsang, J., Mosteller, M., Lapeyrouse, S.

Amazingly enough, the Cadet swimming team has, in its second year of work, already achieved the high caliber of U.M.S. sports. Last year, due mainly to lack of competition from local high schools, the squad only participated in two large meets. The first was the Gulf States Invitational where U.M.S. placed seventh out of twenty-two teams from Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Mississippi. Later in the spring the Cadets captured third place out of the twenty competing squads in the State High School Meet at Tuscaloosa. Already having distinguished themselves as lettermen, Matt Mosteller, Chris Gewin, Scott Mosher, Robin Murray and Jamie Murray hope to lead this year's team in achieving several specific goals. These include giving to U.M.S. at least two first places, individually and perhaps on the relays.

M.I.P. SERVICES
TO HELP YOU
GO TO COLLEGE

The M.I.P. Insured Education Loan

A Merchants National Bank Insured Education Loan makes it possible for parents to work out a plan for financing your college education. The plan is based upon a total amount that will be needed while you are in college, and it provides funds at the time you need them during each school year. Life Insurance is included as extra protection for your college education.

Our Thanks

The "Cadet" Staff of 1970 wishes to thank these people and organizations whose many assistances have made possible the production of this yearbook. Our grateful appreciation goes to:

Bellingrath Gardens, for allowing us to use their beautiful gardens for the pictures of the military sponsors and liner;

McEachern of Mobile, Inc., for professional photographic assistance;

Vaughan Drinkard Studios, for professional photographic assistance;

Mr. Jim Owen, our Paragon Press representative;

Capt. William G. Treutel, our faculty advisor;

The Advertisers and Patrons whose financial assistance made this yearbook possible;
